

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

FOUNDED IN 1900

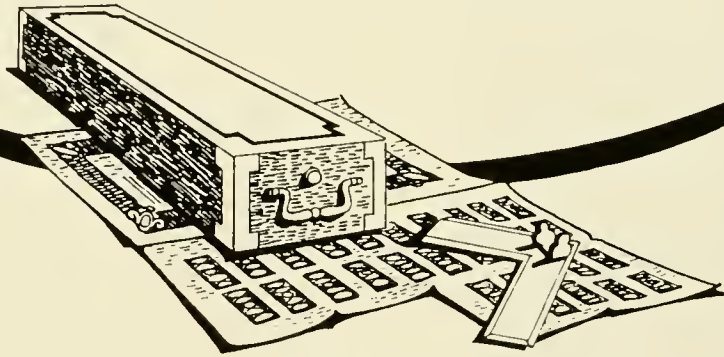

MARCH

1935

Vol. XXXV No. 8

Do Your Securities Receive the ETERNAL VIGILANCE they Demand?

Individuals whose observation and experience cover periods of varying economic conditions know that the conservation of capital, however invested, demands eternal vigilance.

The values of investments are constantly exposed to the risk of injury from changing industrial, political, and economic conditions. Therefore, continuous study is essential if basic changes are to be detected, their significance determined, and investment policies adjusted accordingly.

For these reasons, the Hospital Trust Company maintains an Investment Research organization. This department continuously studies investments in the light of current trends, in an effort to anticipate conditions which may weaken or strengthen holdings. The resulting data serves to guide our committees of officers in the investment of trust funds, and also in the recommendations made to owners who have placed their securities in our care under Agency Service Accounts.

If you believe such studied procedure will be of value in the care of your securities, we suggest that you discuss with one of our officers how it can be adapted to your use.

 Rhode Island
Hospital Trust Company

Pawtucket — Providence — Woonsocket

► The Oldest Trust Company in New England ◀

G-E Campus News

GLASSES FOR ELECTRIC EYES

Electric eyes are wearing colored glasses and doing a new job. As a result of strict NRA code requirements, the paper industry had to find a rigid means of classifying different qualities of paper. The Institute of Paper Chemistry found that as far as white book papers were concerned, the percentage of light they reflected was an indication of their quality.

The General Electric general engineering laboratory built the necessary device—an instrument which relies on the scrutiny of two phototubes in series to measure the coefficient of reflection. This is an exceedingly delicate task, as the matter of a small percentage of reflectivity determines the price and quality of a paper.

Here's where the glasses come in. To do certain jobs right, the electric eyes had to don different colored glass screens in the form of a filter and lens arrangement. It wasn't that they were getting old; they just needed a little assistance.

J. L. Michaelson, Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, '28, is G-E engineer in charge of building these instruments.

"GE-1000"

When, after a two-day search, a rescue plane finally located the lost transport plane which "mashed down" on a lonely Adirondack peak a couple of months ago, General Electric radio engineers rushed an emergency portable short-wave radio station into the mountain country to help in co-ordinating land and air rescue operations. The disabled ship was in the center of a wilderness, miles from the nearest means of communication. The radio expedition, however, managed to set up its equipment in a cabin at the end of a one-track automobile trail, only four miles from the scene of the mishap. There, designated as station "GE-1000" at the request of the airline operators, the equipment was used as an emergency unit in the airline's radio system. The General Electric engineers co-operated in communicating with the planes that guided the rescue parties toward the stranded fliers. They also helped send back news of the rescue, directly to owners of short-wave receiving sets, and through a rebroadcast by WGY, the General Electric station at Schenectady, to other listeners.

W. J. Purcell, chief engineer of WGY; W. R. David, U. of Kentucky, '19; E. H. Fritschel, Iowa State, '26; G. W. Fyler, Yale, '29; R. H. Williamson, Iowa State, '28; R. W. Orth, Minnesota, '30; G. M. Brown, Washington State, '29; and R. A. Lash, Ohio Northern, '29, comprised the General Electric radio expedition.

TURBINE BIOGRAPHY

A turbine can now write its own biography, with the aid of recording instruments recently developed in the General Electric general engineering laboratory.

These sensitive devices were developed for the supervision of large turbines from a point remote from the scene of operation. The instruments measure and record shaft eccentricity, bearing vibration, shell expansion, and interference of rubbing or rotating parts. They provide the operator with an indication and a permanent record, on paper, of mechanical performance throughout the starting period and subsequent running time.

C. D. Greentree, Alabama Poly, '28; A. V. Mershon, Pratt Institute, '13; and M. S. Mead, Case School of Applied Science, '23, of the General Electric general engineering laboratory, worked on the instruments.

96-130DH

GENERAL  ELECTRIC

PROFESSOR ALBERT K. POTTER, '86, is about to retire from active work, after thirty-seven years of teaching in the Department of English. With quiet but wide scholarship and unerring taste he has guided more than nine generations of students in the understanding and appreciation of both the older and the more modern fields of literature. In the formal and informal relationships of the social life of the University he has played an indispensable part, and in Corporation, Faculty, and Alumni activities given distinction to routine tasks. We rejoice in his elevation to the Emeriti, and hope that it may not mean the loss of his felicitous services to Brown.

—from the Resolution adopted by the Advisory Council of the Associated Alumni, February 22, 1935.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

Vol. XXXV

PROVIDENCE, R. I., MARCH, 1935

No. 8

A Budget of New Brown Ideas

RETURNING from one of Brown's most significant Visiting Days, the officers and delegates took back to the Brown Clubs throughout the country the latest news of the University, a fresh enthusiasm for her cause, and a budget of stimulating ideas. Most of those ideas were crystallized in the sessions of the Advisory Council, presided over by Henry S. Chafee '09, the leader of the Associated Alumni. A half-dozen reports focussed attention on alumni problems and projects, now well in hand.

After dinner in Faunce House on Feb. 21, the evening session opened with a welcome from the President of the University. "This is the day," said Dr. Barbour, "to which we look in anticipation and on which we look back with pleasure." He was highly appreciative of Mr. Chafee's services in office during the past two years. The alumni president had been "indefatigable, constructive, everything which a man in his position should be." Commending the Trustees of the Alumni Fund, he said, "We are going into a study of the resources of Brown, with the long look." He hoped the meetings would send the Brunonians out with "new courage, new wisdom, new devotion."

The Faculty speaker this year was Professor Leonard Carmichael, head of the Psychology Department, who, by giving a picture of that department, gave insight into the larger University community. Describing the first of four functions, undergraduate instruction, he told humorously of the way in which an instructor proceeds. The major emphasis, he says, is to give the student careful, honest information. He cited one of his former students, Robert Morey, newly elected Fellow of the Royal Anthropological Society who is going into Liberia for lengthy research. He spoke, too, of Carl Pfaffman, Rhodes Scholar-elect, who will study at Oxford on the border-line between psychology and physiology. The second function, graduate instruction, is helpful to the undergraduates, he asserted. Graduate enthusiasm reveals to the younger men what scholarship can mean. Development of original material, experiment, research, and publication were other phases of departmental activity, while the development and maintenance of associations with other departments and colleagues in the same field was another essential function.

CANDIDATES FOR ALUMNI OFFICES

THE Alumni Secretary rendered his 13th annual report, which appears elsewhere in this issue. Then the President of the Associated Alumni read the slate of candidates for alumni office which had been recommended by the Executive Committee, acting as a nominating committee.

Officers for the next term will be chosen from the following nominees: For President of the Associated Alumni to succeed Henry S. Chafee '09—Royal W. Leith '12 of Boston and Ralph W. Armstrong '17 of Springfield, Mass.

For Treasurer—Charles J. Hill '16 of Providence to succeed himself. For Vice President, New England Region, to succeed Mr. Leith—Claude R. Branch '07 of Boston and Kenneth D. Johnson '19 of Milton, Mass. For Director in that region to succeed Mr. Armstrong—F. H. Gabbi '02 of Portland, Me., and James S. Eastham '19 of Andover, Mass. C. F. Andrews '26 of New Haven, Conn., continues in office. To succeed Sidney Clifford '15, Vice President of the Rhode Island Region—Mr. Clifford and J. Palmer Barstow '02, both of Providence. To succeed William P. Sheffield '15 of Newport as Director—Edward T. Richards '27 and F. E. Schoeneweiss '20, both of Providence. Earl M. Pearce '17 continues as Director.

In the Atlantic Midland Region: To succeed Dennis F. O'Brien '98 of New York City as Vice President—Hunter S. Marston '08 of New York City, Arthur Deerin Call '96 of Washington, D. C., and Robert Forster '03 of Albany, N. Y. To succeed Mr. Forster as Director—T. W. Gordon '06, Schenectady, N. Y., and R. Stanley Thomson '12 of Troy, N. Y. Borden D. Whiting '98 of Newark, N. J., continues as Director. To succeed Ralph M. Brown '25 of Chicago as Vice President of the Central Region—Ralph G. Johnson '05 of Chicago and H. T. Miller '99 of Detroit, Mich. As Director of that Region to succeed John B. Abbott '15 of St. Louis—Edwin B. Mayer '09 of Chicago and R. A. Gillis '15 of Cleveland, O. Harold L. Madison '01 of Cleveland continues as Director. In the Western Region E. A. Adams '12 is named to succeed himself as Vice President. To succeed C. Henry Smith '99 of Boulder, Colo., as Director—Mr. Smith and Joseph E. Cook '14 of Denver, Colo. Dr. T. Harper Goodspeed '09 of Berkeley, Cal., continues as Director.

Other Directors include three Alumni Trustees of the University, to be appointed by the President of the University to succeed Judge Allyn L. Brown '05 of Norwich, Conn., Professor Z. Chafee, Jr., '07 of Cambridge, Mass., and Henry C. Hart '01 of Providence. A Faculty Representative is to be appointed by Dr. Barbour to succeed Professor Zenas R. Bliss '18. Nelson B. Jones, Jr., '28 of Providence has been named a Director to succeed Henry S. Chafee '09 as representative of the Association of Class Secretaries. George L. Miner '97 of Providence continues as Director. A Director to succeed W. Chesley Worthington '23 of Providence as representative of the ALUMNI MONTHLY is to be named.

Of six Directors-at-Large at present, Brenton G. Smith '11 of Providence, David J. Purdie '11 of Verona, N. J., and Sherman M. Strong '15 of Chicago continue to serve. The following terms expire: those of Clinton C. White '00 of Providence, William B. Farnsworth '17 of Providence, and Wardwell C. Leonard '18 of Tiverton. Henry S. Chafee was named to one of those vacancies to continue the tradition of having the retiring President serve as Director after leaving the Presidency. Two vacancies were left open so that the new President may have appointive power. One of those vacancies probably would be filled by the unsuccessful candidate for President.

ALUMNI FUND AND ATHLETIC COUNCIL

PRESIDENT BARBOUR was named to succeed himself on the Board of Trustees of the Alumni Fund, while Dr. W. Randolph Burgess '12, Deputy Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York was named to succeed Hunter S. Marston '08 of New York. Those who continue their terms are William G. Meader '05, E. K. Aldrich, Jr. '02, A. L. Philbrick '03, Lawrence Lanpher '23, and the President and Treasurer of the Associated Alumni, ex-officio.

Upon the retirement of William C. Giles '11 of Springfield, Mass., from the Athletic Council, the Advisory Council later adopted a resolution praising him as a "forceful factor and a tireless worker in the cause that renders Brown's name in sport one of honor." To succeed him, there were nominated two candidates, to be elected by letter ballot in June: George S. Burgess '12 of Boston and Frederick Schwinn '05 of Attleboro, Mass.

The high point of the evening was an inspiring report for the Executive Committee, read by President Chafee, setting forth the aims and policies of the Associated Alumni. That report will be found on other pages of this issue. Clinton C. White declared his deep pleasure in the report because it seemed to indicate that the vital programs instituted by Mr. Chafee would not lapse with his retirement. The Executive Committee, he felt, had grown progressively useful, and its ideas had had a natural evolution. Eugene B. Jackson '02 of Boston, commenting on the fostering of Brown loyalties, read a letter that showed how a professor's influence can stimulate a man's life-long interest in fine things. The professor in that particular instance had been "Johnnie" Greene.

BROWN CLUB PRIZE SCHOLARSHIPS

THERE being no chapel assembly this year, the Friday morning session of the Council began shortly after 9:15 o'clock. President Chafee said that he would proceed in a somewhat leisurely fashion and not hurry the Council or the speakers, thus knitting together in their minds the component parts of the program.

Henry C. Hart '01, reporting for the Committee on Brown University Club Prize Scholarships, said that the two Brown Club scholars (Providence and Chicago) "who have thus far spent a year in college have each maintained during his Freshman year an average in his academic work of over 90 percent." For the year 1934-35, he said, $500 scholarships for first year students have been awarded by the Brown Clubs of Boston, Chicago, New York, and Providence.

"The experience of the past two years," Mr. Hart went on, "has demonstrated the necessity of certain changes and improvements in the carrying on of the Brown Club Scholarship program, especially in connection with the publicity of the scholarship offers and the means of attracting a large number of desirable candidates. . . . The Brown Club Prize Scholarships should attract young men of distinction, who, regardless of financial circumstances or of predilections toward Brown, will look upon attainment as a signal honor."

He explained the two main objectives of the Committee at this time: (1) To insure the continuance of the four scholarships now being given. (2) To keep alive interest in the Brown Club Prize Scholarship idea in Clubs that have not as yet offered scholarships with the hope that eventually many of these Clubs will offer scholarships of their own, or in combination with other Clubs.

MR. HART showed pieces of publicity sent out by the Providence and New York Brown Clubs, and Earl M. Pearce '17, president of the Providence unit, said that his Club, in a campaign to get 100 new members to take care of the scholarship fund, signed on 208 men and made their scholarship possible.

Robert Forster '03 of Albany asked if raising money for a scholarship offset the Alumni Fund in any way, and there was active discussion in which Mr. Hart, President Chafee, Frederick B. Wiener '27 of Washington, Edward T. Richards '27 of Providence, J. A. O'Neil '31 of New York, Brenton G. Smith '11, Sidney Clifford '15, Professor Adams, Frank E. Marble '05 of Lynn, and Dean Currier took part. The opinion was that the scholarship funds and the Alumni Fund could well go along together without conflict. Professor Adams suggested that things might be made better for the smaller Clubs if some way could be found to synchronize the Alumni Fund and the scholarship campaign, and President Chafee said that the matter would be taken up by the Executive Committee.

"Let's aim as always for one hundred per cent," he added, "and keep working to improve the record."

Mr. Hart reported, as an encouragement to the Clubs, that plans were under way which would probably result in a fifth Brown Club offering a scholarship for the next academic year. Dean Currier's words of appreciation of the work done to date indicated the fine co-operation existing between the University Administration and the Prize Scholarship Committee.

THE ALUMNI FUND PROGRAM

INTRODUCING W. G. Meader '05, Chairman of the Alumni Fund Trustees, President Chafee recounted the great amount of hard work the Trustees were doing and praised the work of W. B. Farnsworth '17 on behalf of the Fund.

Mr. Meader clearly outlined the plan of the Trustees whereby the alumni, both as individuals and as class groups, may be guided with regard to their gifts to Brown and said that under any such plan the three following points must be kept in mind:

- (1) A plan of giving for the individual.
- (2) A plan of giving for the class.
- (3) A plan to differentiate between funds for current expenses and those for capital funds.

Regarding class funds for endowment, he said, "the Trustees believe that while there may be different methods of raising such funds in many classes, it is possible that the methods might be, in the future, standardized to some extent. If this could be done, the University at some future date will know years in advance just what may be expected from each class.

"We also feel that the matter of capital gifts should be mutually discussed by Alumni Fund Trustees and Class Committees in joint conference."

After discussing the two methods (individual contributions to be covered by a trust agreement between the class and the University, and endowment insurance taken on the lives of a number of men in the class on a group plan) of raising capital funds, Mr. Meader gave a series of five points to be stressed with members of the Senior Class. The major points are that the Alumni Fund provides the Senior with a method by which he may pay his debt to Brown in years to come, that the goal of the class should be at least $500 the first year out, and that for the first five years the class should concentrate on this individual average giving ($2.00 a man), with an eye to increasing the yearly total when possible.

PROMINENT IN THE ADVISORY COUNCIL DELIBERATIONS

Front row, left to right—Sidney Clifford '15, Providence, Royal W. Leith '12, Boston, Henry S. Chafee '09, President, Ralph A. Armstrong '17, Springfield, Charles J. Hill '16, Providence.
 Second row: W. Chesley Worthington '23, Frederick E. Whitaker '88, Woonsocket, Alfred H. Gurney '07, Brenton G. Smith '11, Robert Forster '03, Albany, and Rev. Samuel A. Livingstone, A. M. '28, Woonsocket.

FOR classes out of college from one to five years, Mr. Meader said, emphasis should be on continuing individual gifts to the Alumni Fund and on discussion of the idea of a capital gift to be started on the tenth reunion. The methods of raising such a gift, he added, would be provided by the Alumni Fund Trustees. He suggested that the class committee named for the purpose should be Providence, or nearby Providence men, and that the Class Agent should be on the committee.

"Brown University cannot continue without the loyal support of the alumni," Mr. Meader said. "The income has been cut. There are fewer students than ever before who can afford to pay the whole tuition. We find that the University wants $50,000 a year from the Alumni Fund until such time as the endowment of the University can be increased. Therefore we are hoping to give it this year. In order to raise $50,000 we have got to go where $50,000 is and persuade every man to contribute as much as he can."

Brown today, he concluded, has 11 per cent of its alumni giving to the Alumni Fund. Yale has 25 per cent. The Yale plan is the one apparently best suited to meet Brown's needs.

Mr. Forster mentioned the Cornell plan, which is a thoroughly successful one, and Mr. Meader said that the Trustees had a committee continuing the study of methods in use at other universities. Mr. Richards asked for a more systematic and comprehensive manner of letting the undergraduates know what Brown represents and what Brown is doing. Dean Currier spoke of the present orientation work, but the feeling of the Council was that it needed supplementing and stressing to develop better young alumni.

THE FIRST A. C. A. P. REPORT

THE Council showed keen interest in the first annual report of Charles J. Hill '16, Chairman of the Alumni Co-operative Admissions Program, more briefly known as ACAP. Mr. Hill and his committee made the report under four headings with the same initials.

Achievement: Progress, he said, has exceeded the greatest expectations. The ACAP has the confidence of the University Administration, and has found cordial response from alumni in all parts of the country. Twenty-five out of 37 Brown Clubs are enrolled in the work. Rhode Island has a special committee under Sidney Clifford '15, the Regional Vice President. New York and Boston have organized small steering committees, and the New York Club, the Brown Engineering Association and the Brown Club of Northern New Jersey are working together as a unit.

"Some 175 Brown alumni are already definitely and actively at work as committeemen upon this program," Mr. Hill said. "By periodic circularization we are seeking to stimulate the activities of these committees, to suggest methods, and to report results."

Committees: After referring to changes in and additions to the main committee, Mr. Hill said: "We have already learned the vital importance of the sub-freshman committees of the various Clubs. They hold the keys to the success of this plan. . . . Uniformly they represent the best of Brown's products."

Aspirations: Most needed at this time, he asserted, "is the honest, earnest co-operation of the committees already appointed and of the officers of the Clubs which they represent. We want soon to establish some sort of standard or quota for each of these Club areas which will be an estimate of the number of applicants to be expected from each of such areas." He added that another hope was to wake up the Clubs now delinquent in starting sub-freshman work.

Problems: "Each type of Brown Club has a different problem. . . . Fortunately, however, each Club has the innate capacity to solve its problem and to develop its own field in its own way. . . . We believe that the Associated Alumni may find this work throughout the country the school for future leaders of alumni work."

MR. HILL also touched upon the difficulty of maintaining direct contact between the University and the Club committees, and suggested that Dr. Bigelow might "well be authorized by the University to contact these Club committees with the same regularity that he visits leading secondary schools."

Dean Currier said that increasing correspondence at the Admissions Office was due in part to the work of ACAP, and told of the heartening response to the letter sent out with the copies of "Student Life at Brown." He also spoke of the work being done among fraternity and non-fraternity men on the Hill to get names of prospective applicants.

Mr. O'Neil said that to the January dinner of the Brown Club in New York about 60 fathers of Brown undergraduates were invited. Vice President Adams was the speaker, and there was a great deal of enthusiasm among the fathers. Dr. H. W. N. Bennett '97 of Manchester, N. H., gave instances of Brown being recommended by teachers in his city, and Mr. Marble pointed out that in numerous communities "there are scholarships without any strings attached which the local committees may be able to use." Ralph A. Armstrong '17 of Springfield felt that fathers of boys at Brown should be included in local Brown meetings; R. W. Leith '12 of Boston told a story about a choice of scholarships resulting in favor of Brown; and Messrs. Sydney Wilmot '09, Earl M. Pearce '17, and C. C. White '00 raised points about scholarship awards which were answered by Messrs. Currier, Hill and Adams.

J. M. Pendleton '85 of Westerly emphasized the fact that Mr. Hill's committee should be able to show what men can get at Brown that they cannot get anywhere else.

FOR THE ALUMNI MONTHLY

W. C. WORTHINGTON '23, editor, and Arthur Braitsch '23, business manager, gave succinct reports for the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY. Mr. Worthington touched on limitations of space and the problems of selection caused thereby. He gave graphic illustration by use of the February issue of the ALUMNI MONTHLY, spoke of aims and ambitions, and said that he would like to have letters on any live University topics that members of the Council and of Brown Clubs could write. He added that he would like to have space for feature articles written by alumni and Faculty.

"We feel," he ended, "that the ALUMNI MONTHLY is a regular visitor from the University, friendly, cheerful, stimulating, confidential, a liaison between campus and Brown centres and Brown men."

Mr. Braitsch said that the business office was encouraged by expressions of approval on the physical makeup of the magazine and was grateful for new subscriptions, especially the ones sent in by Mr. O'Neil of the Brown Club in New York. He urged prompt paying of bills to give the ALUMNI MONTHLY every possible dollar for working capital.

STANDARDS FOR BROWN CLUBS

PICTORIALLY, with aid of a specially colored map to show the territory covered by Brown Clubs, and in a well-written report, Brenton G. Smith '11, chairman of the Brown Club Program Committee, pointed out avenues for improvement of Club programs. He described the questionnaire sent out to all Clubs and exhibited the data compiled from the answers.

"Most energy," he said, "seems to be spent on efforts to get a group together for an occasion or to maintain an organization. Not enough is devoted to work connected with the welfare of the University. An answer to this is that the Clubs should reorganize to the extent of having two vice presidents, one in charge of the operation of the Club and its get-togethers and the other who shall be responsible for the alumni program, such as the ACAP work and so on."

Mr. Smith offered a classification for Clubs, rating them A, B, and C, in accord with their activities. President Chafee commented that the whole program of the Associated Alumni depended upon the effectiveness of the Clubs. All the Council members endorsed the Club program idea. Rev. S. A. Livingstone '28 of Woonsocket asked about types of programs and commended the work of Frederic E. Whitaker '88 during the past 30 years in arranging programs for the Woonsocket alumni.

The Council voted to continue the Club Program Committee, asking it to go ahead with its present plans.

PRaise FOR WORK WELL DONE

GEORGE L. MINER '97 read resolutions on the approaching retirement of Professor Albert Knight Potter '86 from the Faculty and of William C. Giles '11 from the Brown University Athletic Council. On behalf of the out-of-town members he thanked the members of the Brown Club of Providence for their hospitality and Mr. Farnsworth for his excellent work as active host for the Brown Club. He also offered a resolution in praise of President Chafee and of Mr. Chafee's "successful and progressive administration." All resolutions were unanimously adopted, together with a vote of thanks to the University Club for holding open house while the Council was in session. Professor William T. Hastings '03 and W. C. Worthington '23 were also members of the Resolutions Committee. President Chafee ended the meeting with a series of pertinent questions for the Council, and all Brown men, indeed, to think about.

PRESIDENT CHAFEE ASKED:

- Are there any loyalties left under the New Deal?*
- Is all bad that has its roots in the past?*
- Shouldn't we particularly at this time rally to our ideals and see to it that they live?*
- Isn't the program for Brown clear and workable?*
- Won't we, representing each Club individually, accept for the Club its responsibilities and act accordingly?*

Present were President Chafee, President Barbour, Vice Presidents A. D. Mead and James P. Adams, Deans Samuel T. Arnold and C. H. Currier, Professor Leonard Carmichael, V. A. Schwartz '07, former president of the Associated Alumni; Z. Chafee '80, Harold B. Tanner '09, W. R. Burwell '15, James M. Pendleton '85, Judge Allyn L. Brown '05, Prof. Z. Chafee, Jr., '07, L. Ralston Thomas, Frank E. Winsor '91, Albert L. Scott '00, W. G. Meader '05, A. L. Philbrick '03, and these representatives of the following Brown Clubs: Providence—Earl M. Pearce '17, Alexander Hindmarsh '19, Edward T. Richards '27; New York—Ralph M. Palmer '10; Boston—Claude R. Branch '07, Eugene B. Jackson '02; Western Maine—Robert F. Skillings '11, Portland; Robert C. Moore '18, Bingham; New Hampshire—Dr. H. W. N. Bennett '97, Manchester; Merrimack Valley—William H. Cady '98; Connecticut Valley—R. A. Armstrong '17; Hartford—Frank O. Jones '97; New Haven—Andrew L. Breckenridge '11, C. F. Andrews '26; Fall River—Dr. Ernest M. Morris '10; Lynn—Frank E. Marble '05, Lawrence G. McGinn '31; Albany-Schenectady-Troy—Robert Forster '03; Brown Engineering Association—Sydney Wilmot '09, New York; Stanley M. Dore '20, Boston; Newport—Dr. Clarence A. Carr '87; Woonsocket—Rev. S. A. Livingstone '28, Frederick E. Whitaker '88; Worcester County—Charles S. Barton '24; Washington, D. C.—Harold B. Mistr '27, Frederick B. Wiener '27; New Bedford—Frank A. Walker '08; Association of Class Secretaries—George L. Miner '97, Nelson B. Jones, Jr., '28. The Alumni Secretary had the official proxies of the Brown Clubs of Alta California, Los Angeles, and the Northwest.

Executive Committee and Directors—Clinton C. White '00, Henry C. Hart '01, Ralph A. Armstrong '17, W. C. Worthington '23, Charles J. Hill '16, Sidney Clifford '15, Royal W. Leith '12, Brenton G. Smith '11, J. A. O'Neil '31, William B. Farnsworth '17, Wardwell C. Leonard '18. Also attending were Stanton P. Nickerson '31, publicity, Arthur Braitsch '23, and the Alumni Secretary.

(On other aspects of Visiting Day, the ALUMNI MONTHLY will report in the April issue. Administration messages and other features will be given there the adequate space lacking this month.)

* * * * *

Peddie's New Headmaster

WILBOUR E. SAUNDERS '16 made his first public appearance as headmaster of Peddie School, Hightstown, N. J., Feb. 12, which was Founders' Day at the school. Three members of the Peddie board of corporators are Brown men—President Barbour '88, Rev. M. J. Twomey, D.D., '00 of Philadelphia, and William W. Wyckoff '99 of New York City.

Towards a Biography of "Benny"

DR. ANDREWS, it has always been recognized, is one of the most striking figures in the whole history of Brown. As student, professor, and President, he left the stamp of his personality upon the University and all its members. When President of Brown, in particular, he influenced powerfully both the characters and careers of individuals and the course of development of the college. At Brown and at all the other institutions with which he was connected he inspired loyal affection and likewise aroused violent controversy. Hundreds of anecdotes and legends cluster about his name.

Because he holds a place of some significance in the history of American education and because of his quality as a man, Dr. Andrews deserves the services of a biographer. But the materials for a biography will in large part be irretrievably lost when the generation which knew him personally is gone. The University has therefore appointed a small committee, consisting of Dr. Harry L. Koopman, Judge John S. Murdock, and Professor William T. Hastings (Chairman), to collect all available Andrewsiana. The Committee desires to receive:

1. Personal anecdotes and reminiscences of Dr. Andrews in the greatest possible detail.
2. Diaries or journals containing references to Dr. Andrews or to controversies in which he was involved.
3. Letters to him, from him, or about him.
4. Manuscript or printed addresses, articles, etc., by or about him.
5. Newspaper clippings.
6. References to printed matter by or about him.
7. Suggestions as to persons not connected with Brown to whom inquiries may be addressed.

All letters and other manuscript materials will be copied and returned.

Communications should be addressed to Professor William T. Hastings, Brown University.

E. BENJAMIN
ANDREWS '70
President of Brown
from 1889 to 1898

An Instrument of Their Alma Mater

A Program for the Sons of Brown, as Set Forth in Full Perspective in the Report of the Executive Committee of the Associated Alumni to the Advisory Council by Henry S. Chafee '09

THE appearance of a report from the Executive Committee is rather an innovation at the Advisory Council, but we have some thoughts upon the future of alumni work which we wish to set before you.

The present Associated Alumni organization throughout the years has evolved from a somewhat loosely organized mystical union of all Brown men under officers whose positions were regarded by the Alumni as honorary ones. Those were the days of campus Annual Meetings of an entertainment character, with speeches by the officers to an audience fewer in number each year. Our hearts were full of sentiment for Brown, but our hand was not called upon for service and our interest waned.

Thus the mass meeting passed, and there came into being a series of hard-working Executive Committees who considered whether the organization might not be made a vehicle for service to the University. Such groups sought contact with the Administration of the College and did what they could to assist in the solution of such problems as came within their province. They also took to heart the wishes and the hopes of the Alumni as presented in their Advisory Council meetings, discussing them each year after the Council's meeting and endeavoring, as a small group may, to resolve them into their elements and then to submit a recommendation to the proper parties.

In those days Alumni and College Administration were not always in such constant touch with one another as they are now. But the Alumni organization's purposes have always had the hearty support and interest of the Administration, and now matters of mutual concern are referred to each other before policies are determined and decisions reached. Then we helped when we could without any particularly definite aim except a real desire to serve the University on any matter as it might arise. In this way the Committee cooperated with Mr. Palmer in the latter years of his distinguished editorship of the ALUMNI MONTHLY, initiated the Wednesday-to-Monday change of Commencement, urged the College Infirmary, and requested what finally resulted in the Brown Survey.

THE PURPOSE OF THE REGIONAL PLAN

LATER, along came the idea of the Regional Plan to group the Brown Clubs in geographical units and give more definite and authoritative voice to the wishes of the members of these Clubs no matter how far away from Providence they are located. It was felt that Rhode Island alumni preponderated and they did not always understand the needs of Brown men out of New England nor grasp the views for

Presidential Praise

*A Resolution
Adopted by the Advisory Council
Which Gives Added Weight to the Report Printed Herewith*

As President of the Associated Alumni during an important stage of the University's history, Henry S. Chafee '09 has devoted constant thought, time, and energy toward making the Brown alumnus a useful, eager instrument of his Alma Mater's best interests. It has been a strikingly progressive and successful administration.

While willing to carry more than his share, Mr. Chafee has not worked alone, in no small measure because of his ability to inspire others to work effectively with him. To them also are thanks due, but his has been the leadership—quiet, sure, and stimulating. He is a worthy member of a family conspicuous for service to Brown University.

In his retirement the Associated Alumni take comfort in the assurance that his vision and his counsel will still be at their call.

the College of those who were more distant and fewer in number.

So the Regional Plan, in the development of which the Executive Committee of that period was very active, created a Constitution that now governs our procedure. Under it each Regional Vice President and two Directors, with six Directors at large, representatives from Alumni Trustees and Faculty form a Board of Directors. From and by this Board is chosen the Executive Committee. Further, the Constitution sets forth the representation of this Advisory Council from each and any association of Brown men whether by Clubs with geographical limitations or associations such as the Engineers and Class Secretaries, the Alumni Trustees, the MONTHLY, etc. In other words every group of Brown men has a yearly opportunity to express itself in the Advisory Council and to share in the formulation of and action under policies in the Board of Directors and Executive Committee. This latter Committee has nine members including the President and Treasurer ex-officio and Mr. Worthington '23, the editor of the ALUMNI MONTHLY. It meets monthly on the campus during the College year; and is, by virtue of its workable size, constant service and delegated responsibility, the natural governing unit of the Associated Alumni.

It meets monthly on the campus during the College year; and is, by virtue of its workable size, constant service and delegated responsibility, the natural governing unit of the Associated Alumni.

NO GEOGRAPHICAL LIMIT ON SERVICE

WHERE do the members of this governing committee come from, who are they, what familiarity have they with Alumni interests? These are questions you may well ask. In the first place, before you are answered, it should be observed that the majority of the membership of such a Committee simply has to come from Providence or its vicinity. No average individual, no matter how devoted he may be to the University, can spare the time or money to attend monthly meetings and the more frequent sub-committee ones, if he resides at more than an overnight run from Providence. This statement is "trite," as the English Department would frequently write on the margins of the daily themes we once had to write for them. But no alumnus, no matter how far distant from Providence, would "view with alarm" this situation if he realizes the great care exercised by the Committee both to learn general alumni sentiment and to apply it in relation to the specific matter under consideration.

"That's all right," I can hear a possible mid-Western alumnus say, "of course we grant your premise of honesty of purpose; but why don't you do something about a sub-Freshman day, Visiting Day for all Alumni, more favorable eligibility rules for football players, or tearing down campus architectural monstrosities and building no more of them? If we only had a voice in Brown affairs, instead of that Providence bunch running things, something would get done instead of only maybe being talked about."

Recognizing, therefore, our own probable fallibilities and feeling that we should report not only to our superiors under the Constitution, but so far as we may to our whole constituency, the minutes of our Executive Committee are mailed to Vice Presidents and Directors as usual but also to the Secretaries of all Brown Clubs and to the ALUMNI MONTHLY where they appear in digest form. We do not operate behind closed doors; your Club Presidents and Secretaries now know what is going on from month to month and may well read excerpts from our minutes at your Club meetings so all Alumni may learn that many of the topics they are interested in are actually discussed by us also.

Before you are taken further afield it seems appropriate to answer the afore-mentioned hypothetical questions (if you haven't forgotten them by now). The Executive Committee during the past two years has contained: Five men from Providence and five from outside of Providence, not counting the Presidents; they are Regional officers or Trustees with intimate experience with alumni work. The President, you will recall, is chosen alternately from Providence and outside of Providence. But when he is elected from outside of Providence, there should not be chosen an Alumnus from so far away that monthly attendance at meetings is too great a burden upon him. Regardless of location it is best that he should come up from the ranks of the Executive Committee so that he thoroughly understands the proceedings it will be his duty to guide.

THEY SOUGHT A SOURCE OF STRENGTH

THIS then is your working Committee. It has certain routine measures with which you are familiar, such as acting as a nominating committee for alumni trustees. This is a most important function, for if we can offer you as candidates capable and interested men, suited to the requirements of their respective offices the whole alumni fabric remains alive and vibrant to their character and energy. With such, our organization develops fastest and furthest in our ideal of service to our Alma Mater.

Aside from such routine requirements, succeeding committees have initiated or assisted in the development of specific subjects of University or undergraduate welfare. They have also been kept familiar in a general way with what other colleges have been doing along the same lines, for your Secretary regularly attends the yearly American Alumni Council and reports the salient points of those programs.

Thus our Brown Reservation in Greenville finally became an actuality through the efforts of Professor Kenerson, generous classes and others. It wasn't inspired by the Dartmouth Outing Club with their 16 cabins, miles of trails, and a Winter Carnival: but probably all of us Reservation boosters had heard of that Outing Club.

The Loyalty or Alumni Fund was created and certainly not less successfully started because Yale had one. But along came the depression and the Fund's revenue dwindled. It is not for us to say whether this reduction has been proportional to the reduction of alumni income available for charities: it is a matter of fact that the total 1934 Fund amounted only to about the same as that of a similar fund in the preparatory school of Phillips Andover and was far short of the needs of the student aid to which it was pledged.

In 1931 Mr. Palmer gave to the Associated Alumni the ALUMNI MONTHLY which he and Dean Currier had so successfully carried on. With all due modesty we believe we now are publishing an even better book; but our paid subscription list is in arrears approximately to the amount of our subsidy by the University.

Now we do not rehearse some of our Committee's disappointments in any spirit of defeatism. Far from it, everyone has his individual and family problems these days, and colleges are not exempt. They are mentioned because the Executive Committees, always containing some members who had served on preceding committees, read, marked, learned and inwardly digested these things. They sought a cause for our merely partial successes, searching for a hidden weakness in our organization or an untapped source of strength. These past two years as we worked along through our monthly meetings we gradually came to a realization that our efforts had been somewhat hit-or-miss, that as a group we did not fulfill the measure of our constitutional responsibilities and that we should develop and prosecute a unified program, the pattern of which began to appear among the current problems discussed.

SOME FUNDAMENTALS AS A GUIDE

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT notwithstanding, there is nothing new under the sun. We don't stand before you now to state that we have evolved any new program; but we will try to state some fundamentals as we see them. If these are soundly woven into a procedure and if this procedure is then continuously kept before us so that it becomes part and parcel of our every day thought, Brown University's progress may be vitally helped by her alumni body.

We must first consciously believe in Brown University, that her traditions and present position among United States colleges show that she is worthy not only to stay in the business of education but to receive more capital and expand her field of activities. Then we state that an active and organized Alumni becomes one of four essential parts of the College economy; the others being an inquiringly-minded group of desirable types of boys seeking education; a Faculty of gentlemen, composed of inspiring teachers, outstanding scholars and promising juniors; and a Corporation with administrative officers whose eyes are raised above the level of day-to-day living, so that they may see into the distance to make sound plans to which they will adhere, procuring the necessary finances and the right personnel to develop their plans. We mention an active and organized Alumni first because that is our job and in the measure that we do it we Alumni may exert an influence on the other three essentials. Our influence will be gauged by our success in maintaining a good Alumni organization and the part that each individual Alumnus accepts as his pleasurable duty in it.

THE ALUMNI AND THE UNDERGRADUATES

LET us first consider the relation of Alumni to the essential of a good undergraduate body. We can each know our College, work for it, publicise its educational advantages in our neighborhood, keep in touch with a secondary school and know at least some of that school's students. Humanity, like water, tends to seek its own level. The Committee on Admissions at Brown tells us that the greatest single influence that students report as the reason for coming to Brown is the influence upon them of some older individual who was interested in and talked to them of Brown. That puts the perpetuation of our species right up to us; we can't duck it in favor of any one else if we have any pride in our Alma Mater and want to see it improve and grow.

The influence next in importance is the approving word of an undergraduate to a younger boy. So if we are constantly feeding desirable boys into the College they will be our allies and the mass will be leavened pretty rapidly. You've seen some such method applied to other schools, and no names need be mentioned because there is more than one example.

Also if we can procure some colorful athletics-for-all feature that exercises an attraction to the average boy, that will be a direct leverage. We think we have an idea along this line in small boat racing on Narragansett Bay. You may have seen a letter about it in the MONTHLY. At relatively small cost it is suggested Brown might capitalize the present interest in yachting and develop an activity certainly natural to our ancient sea-faring city; one that will delight the ever-increasing group of junior yachtsmen.

Today no college, no matter how outstanding it may have been, can rest upon its laurels. It is in competition with the already great State institutions of the West and the PWA newly financed ones of the East. The Catholic Colleges also are commanding more attention; while reduced incomes restrict boys more nearly to State lines than in the past. Yet the untrammelled endowed Eastern College still retains its merits and, if it is alive to its opportunities, will continue to grow, perhaps even stimulated by the increased competition. But its light must not be hidden under a bushel. It is our Alumni responsibility to keep it shining far and wide.

WITH REGARD TO THE CORPORATION

NEXT consider Alumni and the Corporation. There are fourteen Alumni trustees upon that body. If we have better and better Alumni we shall have better Alumni Trustees. They will continue to furnish Alumni material for life Trustees and will draw to the Corporation non-graduates even more worthy than the distinguished group we now have. All will be as proud of the honor of office as they will be determined to work hard for Brown University.

The Survey Report commended the University's present educational policies, but lack of funds has hindered their development. We Alumni have helped before in financial ways,—we still are doing so to a small degree. But each of us is determined that his personal resources shall be greater in the future, and he may well begin now to include a place for Brown in his financial program. The American people are a charitable people, their nature has not changed in the past years, and Brown University is one of the great charitable institutions of this country. We all of us, whether we paid our term-bills or had scholarships, lived off the bounty of our predecessors. Certainly as a group we in turn shall not fail by gift and by influence to provide for our successors in our Alma Mater.

THE PROGRAM IS CO-ORDINATED

WE of the Executive Committee believe we see an harmonious unified program that if pursued is just bound to improve the University. Not all at once, of course; but give ten years of alumni understanding and co-operation with a program and real strides may be seen. It is like an ascending spiral always reaching higher on each successive cycle.

Your Committee thus somewhat broadly defines its aim, and in this Advisory Council tomorrow sub-committees will report the present progress. In conclusion let us briefly co-ordinate the Committee's program for Alumni:

I. The Executive Committee of Alumni, associated in a common purpose, should head strong, well-organized, Brown-conscious Clubs working throughout the country along uniform lines with an informed membership trying to send to Brown the largest number of qualified applicants; and by Prize Scholarships to procure a nucleus of applicants of the best qualifications regardless of financial ability. Procuring qualified applicants calls only for work; a financial response through the Alumni Fund and a future capital gift should also be in our thoughts.

II. When admitted, our successful applicant comes directly under the University influence. We are therefore inquiring with Vice President Adams and a Committee of the Faculty into the possibility of better acquainting students with the merits, traditions and opportunities of Brown so they may be well equipped to expatiate upon the place of their choice to their fellows and juniors; also the possibility of an orientation of the student to his later Alumni responsibilities; in other words, to include a short course on Alumnship in the curriculum.

III. Our good group of undergraduates, alive to their educational opportunities and of pleasing personality, will form a student body that will aid Dr. Mead to continue his successful attraction of desirable men to the Brown Faculty.

IV. We propose to offer you as candidates for Alumni Trustees and Association officers only the very best men we can secure. Brown alumni should never have a "set-up" presented to them on a ballot. Your choice may then be relied upon to continue the Alumni program in his more intimate association with the College.

Our premise is that on behalf of Brown University work and interest, in some non-biological way, beget each other in a happy union; our conclusion is that if our program becomes part and parcel of our everyday thought and our everyday action, Brown University's progress will be vitally helped by her Alumni.

* * * * *

Studying the Housing Problem

THE Corporation Committee on Student Housing has already held initial conferences, and a considerable amount of statistical material has been gathered concerning the whole question of student housing at Brown, and at other institutions. Members of the Committee have also made a tour of inspection of the dormitories on the Brown campus and plan in the near future to call into conference persons who are competent to give important information in regard to matters which are subjective and not amenable to statistical presentation. It is intended to include in these conferences groups of students who have lived in the dormitories and also representatives from the fraternities.

The policy of the Graduate School of bringing the graduate students, so far as possible, together in dormitories has been furthered by necessary improvements in Maxcy and a complete renovation of the vacated fraternity house at 57 Waterman Street. Maxcy accommodates 35 and Waterman 15. All accommodations are occupied. As a matter of policy all unmarried Fellows and Assistants receiving $500 or more are expected to occupy dormitory rooms.

* * * * *

Sons of Sons of Brown

Records for the last seven years show a constant increase in the number of sons of Brown alumni who have enrolled as undergraduates. In 1932 there were only 14, and in succeeding seven classes as follows: 1933, 26; 1934, 27; 1935, 27; 1936, 34; 1937, 38; 1938, 40.

Brunonia Plays the Game

THE finest basketball team in Brown athletic history ran its winning streak up to 10 games before bowing to Yale in the last fortnight of the season. Their success was outstanding in the month's sport, although the wrestlers attracted attention with a curious sequence of 16-16 ties that can be written down as moral victories by those who care for moral victories.

The basketball squad was notable off the court, too, for it came out of exams without a single casualty. It began where it had left off the previous semester by trouncing Holy Cross 64-43, with Floren scoring 20 points, Kennedy 13, Noonan 11, and Van Aken 9. Wesleyan came to Providence undefeated in six games, but lost 56-45. Kennedy, Floren and Noonan were high scorers with 17, 16, and 10 points respectively. Finding difficulty in maintaining their pace, the players seemed to slump against Colgate, but good floor work made up for the loss of the tap-offs, and the final margin was in Brown's favor, 47-43. Score at the half had been 21-20, and it remained close. Floren accounted for 14 of the Brunonian total, Noonan 12, Kennedy 10, and Samdperil 7.

Proud of a stout defensive record that had helped it to win six of seven contests, Trinity came along next. Twenty-seven points was the largest number of points it had permitted any opponent, and the average scored against it had been 20. Playing without the injured Noonan, Brown wrecked the visitors' record by leading 26-16 at the half and 47-27 at the gun. Kennedy caged 18 points and Moreum 9. Although Coach Kahler rested his regulars in the second half, including Kennedy, whose ankle was both ering him, the Brunonians outclassed M. I. T., 62-34. Biggs and Samdperil pressed the leaders, Kennedy, Floren and Noonan in the race for points.

AND then with the psychological handicap of a long winning streak, the five went to New Haven where Yale is at its strongest. The Bear jumped into the lead at the beginning, 5-0, trailed 13-19 at the half, and rallied to draw even at 23-all. There, however, the Eli forwards began sinking Long Toms while their guards tightened their defense. The final score was: Yale 43, Brown 33. Van Aken tallied 11 points for the Brunonians, but the usual marksmen went into single figures.

Dean Academy outscored the Freshman five 48-33, with her star guard Giardi responsible for 22 of her total. The Cubs looked strong against M. I. T. Freshmen, whom they beat 34-18, but Worcester Academy ran out ahead in a scoring fest, 57-47.

The sensational brand of basketball shown by the varsity was drawing unprecedented crowds to the Brown Gym, and capacity was expected for the Providence College game that concluded the schedule. Coach Kahler's status next year has yet to be disclosed, for the mentor who has drilled this fast, high-scoring squad (and, incidentally, kept it up in its marks in class) is to leave Brown next fall. He goes to Dickinson to coach varsity football, having been selected from a field of scores of applicants. He may return in the winter to coach basketball at Brown again and to continue coaching Freshman track. He was Freshman football coach here.

THE first three wrestling engagements of the semester left Brown and its opponents all even in each case. Against Springfield and the Army the lightweights built up a point advantage that the heavier grapplers could not maintain. Beaulieu, DeCesare, Zooloomian and Pease were the four winners, each getting one fall in the two meets.

Against Tufts, which had gone its way all season serenely and victorious, the story was different. Again Beaulieu won and DeCesare got a fall, but Tufts then took four straight bouts and went into the two heavy classes with a lead of 16-8. Broomhead took a referee's decision in the overtime to stave off defeat, and Saklad came through with a brilliant fall that tied the score. Although Keegan, Lathrop, and Senecal won each time, the Freshman wrestlers bowed to Springfield Freshmen 23-11 and Providence High Schools 18-13. Against Tufts first-year men, Turcone joined the winning trio to win 20-16, all four scoring falls.

A dramatic victory over Dartmouth was one high spot of the swimming season. It was all decided in unexpected fashion in the last feet of the final event. Lyman, undefeated this year in the dives, had taken one first, and Hemmerdinger had led the field in the 100. Lee, having won the long 440 and 220, was called on again to swim anchor in the relay. His opponent was the speedy Dartmouth captain, Crouse, who had won the 50 and been withdrawn from the 100 to rest for the critical relay. With Brown's three-point advantage threatened, Lee took his mark and saw his teammates yield a two-yard lead to the Green swimmers. But the Brown captain, tired as he was, picked up those two yards, most of them in the last drive home. The relay was declared a dead heat, and Brown took the meet 37-34.

LEADERS IN THE NEWER SPORTS

Fred Avis '35, captain and coach of Brown fencing, and E. J. Lyman '35, one of the leading undergraduate squash players.

EVERALL set a new Brown record in the 200-yard breast stroke against Colgate, covering the specialty in 2:48. With firsts also in the 50, 100, 220, and dives, Brown could afford to lose the relay and still win 38½ to 32½. For the first time since the colleges have been swimming against each other, Springfield beat the Brunonians. A disqualification for Brown in the medley relay eventually proved the deciding factor in the 37-40 defeat. While his team was overcoming Syracuse 46-24, Lee equalled the New England Intercollegiate record and beat the Brown pool record in the 220 with a time of 2:22 3/5. Paulsen's ineligibility hurt the team in its second semester engagements.

Against B. C. High the Freshman swimmers took every first except the relay, in which they were disqualified, and won 46-19. Captain Dean took the dives and 200 in this meet and again against Moses Brown. The latter school won the last two events, the relays, to take the meet 38-27. Worcester beat the Freshmen 43-22.

Providence Central won the Brown Interscholastics this year from a fast field that included Huntington, Moses Brown, Hartford, Worcester Academy, Warwick, Peckskill Military, Brookline, La Salle, Boston English, Providence Classical, and Pawtucket. John Higgins of Central set a new national interscholastic record in the 100-yard breast-stroke. Ed Wood, Panama boy swimming for Huntington, equalled the national mark held by his opponent in the 100, Matt Chrostowski of Central. He beat the latter by a close margin in winning this dash in 53.4 seconds. Central's 200-yard relay time of 1:40 broke the third meet record of the day.

HARD hit by ineligibilities and injuries, the hockey team did not reach the form of the first semester, except in a successful invasion of West Point. Harry Hart scored three of Brown's six goals there before he retired, hurt, but the margin of superiority, shown in the 6-2 final, lay in Skillings's goal-tending, according to the Associated Press account. Harvard, held to one goal in the first period, later asserted itself to run up a 7-0 score. Colby's iron men, playing with little relief from the second string players, spotted the Bear two goals in the first period and, even so, made it an 8-3 evening to take back to Maine. Yale took a 10-2 engagement, after being checked 2-1 in the opening period. Boston University won each leg of a home-and-home contract, 3-0 and 4-2, and again it was weakness in the later play that cost Brown its chances. The Freshmen dropped both of its games with B. U., too, 4-0 and 7-1.

Entertaining the Worcester Tech indoor track team, Bruno won 49-23. Her winners were Nicholson in the 300, Firsching in the 600, Pearce in the 1000, Mayhew in the mile, and four team-mates in the high jump. The Freshmen upset Worcester Academy 33-30, the shot put deciding the battle. Bernie Lewis distinguished himself by giving Brown its two points in the ICAAAA indoor meet at New York. He qualified with a broad jump of 22 feet 11 13/16 inches and by bettering it at 23 feet 3 inches captured fourth place in the event. Pearce was Brown's only point-maker in the Boston University Club intercollegiate where he ran fourth in the 880. Brown's mile relay team of Widnall, Lewis, Firsching, and Pearce had a fairly successful career in three meetings, running first in two triangular events and second in another.

Brown track and football lost a potential star when Fritz Pollard, Jr., was denied permission to register at the start of the second semester. A spectacular back, an able basketball player, a hurdling champion, and a 13-foot pole vaulter, he never seemed able to buckle down to serious studying. He was not alone in fading out of the Brown athletic picture after midyears.

The capable and ambitious fencers encountered in Harvard an adversary more capable and more ambitious. The Varsity lost to the Crimson 16-1, although six other matches were close, and the Freshmen could win only one of five close matches in losing 12-1. The Varsity took the Boston Y into camp 9-8 in a spirited series decided by Avis and Bojar in the sabres. Hulbert, epee-specialist, Bopp, Bender, and Williams were the other representatives and point-earners. The Freshmen, paced by Captain Jennings and Mayer, led Hope High 6-3 and East Providence 7-2.

Championship honors in the C and D Divisions of the Providence squash league went to the Brunonians, the lower classification especially demonstrating superiority over their opponents from the University Club, the Rhode Island Hospital, and the Agawam Hunt.

* * * * *

600 Tennis Miles in 1934

HOWARD PRESCOTT QUICK deserves recognition as one of the most active tennis players," said the Westfield, N. J., Leader in a recent issue. "Mr. Quick is the oldest playing member of the Westfield Tennis Club, but during the past season he probably played more games than any other member. Certainly over a period of years it would be hard to find anyone who can equal Mr. Quick's record.

"Wearing a pedometer while playing Mr. Quick collected records which indicated that he had made more than 1,000,000 steps, hops, leaps or jumps, and had traveled about 600 miles in pursuit of 1934 tennis balls.

"Mr. Quick in 1934 completed his fifty-first season of active tennis, playing 5274 games in 542 sets (of which 60 per cent were singles matches). This is the fourth consecutive season in which he has played more than 5,000 games, the maximum being 5,659 in 1932. His last appearance on the courts for 1934 was on December 2.

"Mr. Quick began playing tennis at Brown University in 1884, and since then has played whenever possible, on three continents, in several countries and at nearly a hundred different places."

Is there any record of a tennis player as old as Mr. Quick, 1887, playing to any such extent as cited above?

* * * * *

Spinach Comes into Its Own

IN Brown University dining rooms, according to the New York Times, undergraduates are reported now eating far more vegetables and fruits than they did five years ago.

Fresh spinach, source of comic-strip jokes, has come into its own at Brown, and is one of the most popular vegetables, running close to peas, the favorite. Carrots and string beans disappear much more rapidly than formerly, while students also are turning toward fruit and vegetable salads and fruit desserts.

"All this is possible because there has been so much popular education stressing the importance of fruit and vegetables in the diet," Miss Louise E. Merrill, managing dietitian of the dining room, explained. "At the same time, it is interesting to note that students are now taking more time to eat their meals."

Miss Merrill has been at Brown for eleven years and has seen student whims come and go.

Of Brown and Brown Men

Speaker in Vermont

JUDGE ERNEST E. MOORE '06, of Ludlow, is Speaker of the Vermont House of Representatives during the present session. He was elected in January after three ballots were taken. When he was sworn in, he asked for an expeditious session and said that he would do his best to co-operate with all members.

Vermont's political leaders, according to the Burlington Free Press, were of the opinion as the Legislature went into session at Montpelier that "Moore was easily the best parliamentarian among the candidates (four) and probably the best fitted for the Speakership, taking everything into consideration. He has a good voice and makes a good appearance as a presiding officer. . . . Anybody would know, just by looking at him, that Judge Moore is a relative of the late Calvin Coolidge. There is the same high forehead, the same reddish tinge to the hair, the same determined mouth and keen, shrewd eyes.

"Judge Moore's experience in the legal profession and as a legislator, and his reputation for fairness and square dealing should equip him admirably for the duties before him as Speaker." Moore was a member of the House in 1915 and again in 1917. He is Judge of Probate at Ludlow.

* * * * *

Billy Lynn on a Horse

WILLIAM H. LYNN '10 has come into his own as a star on Broadway. As Erwin Trowbridge, the hero of "Three Men on a Horse," he has received high praise from all the critics, and the play is one of the hits of the year. Trowbridge is a dreamy suburbanite, who writes greeting card lyrics and who has a gift for picking horses to win, but who does not bet on his "never-failing selections" because, as he says, "that would commercialize my avocation and make it sordid." But a betting gang picks him up and uses him to beat the bookmakers to a fare-you-well.

C. B. Cochran, the London producer, said that the play was the most amusing one he had seen in New York and added: "The performance of William Lynn was a joy." Robert Benchley, the observant reviewer for The New Yorker, praised Lynn's "uncanny projection of Erwin Trowbridge's misery across the footlights. Mr. Lynn never once wavers in giving us Erwin Trowbridge, even at the risk of losing his toupee in his more agitated moments. From now on, Mr. Lynn should be in constant demand for the role of Boy Least Likely to Succeed."

* * * * *

The Krasnovsky Record

THOMAS H. KENWORTHY '01, principal of the Hooker School in Springfield, Mass., was praised in an editorial in a recent issue of the Springfield Republican dealing with the remarkable record of the Krasnovsky children who have been passing through the school for the past 25 years.

Kenworthy was startled, according to the editorial, by the good work of the first child, a girl, who entered the school in 1910. He felt that he would not soon encounter such a pupil. But he was wrong. Since 1910 it has been just one brilliant Krasnovsky after another—six of them, to be exact, with the seventh ending his school period in a few years.

"If it had not been for the kind, courteous, helpful teaching of Mr. Kenworthy and his staff of beloved teachers," the editorial said, "this amazing record would never have been accomplished, the Krasnovskys believe. Mr. Kenworthy is the family's most beloved man. Mrs. Krasnovsky says: 'Of all the choices of principals the school board has made, Mr. Kenworthy is the best.'"

* * * * *

Elevation for Judge Brown

JUDGE ALLYN L. BROWN '05, member of the Connecticut Superior Court since 1921, has been appointed to the Connecticut Supreme Court of Errors by Governor Wilbur L. Cross '31, honorary. He will succeed Judge Frank D. Haines who will retire Jan. 16, 1936. "Judge Brown," said the Norwich Bulletin, his home town newspaper, in an editorial, "has established an excellent record on the Superior Court bench, has at different times been called upon to serve temporarily on the Supreme bench and by ability, training and temperament is highly qualified for the place to which he has been named. . . . He is still a young man and should be able to render long and conscientious service on the bench of the highest court in the State." Judge Brown is the senior member in point of service among the Superior Court judges.

* * * * *

Foe of the Securities Act

WALTER H. BURNHAM '08, vice president of Doremus & Co., advertising counselors, told the Advertising Club of New York last month that "the recently passed securities act of 1933 contains provisions which practically prohibit the advertising of investments. . . . The net result is that one of the essential purposes of the act (to tell the truth in advertising securities) is not being accomplished. It was the intention that the public be better informed about a security. Yet today people obtain less information from advertisements than before."

* * * * *

Retirement for Ira Letts

JUDGE IRA LLOYD LETTS '13 startled many of his friends and acquaintances on Feb. 14 by the announcement that he would resign as United States District Court Justice for Rhode Island, the resignation to take effect April 1. "I have devoted nine and one-half years in the service or employ of the United States Government," he said. "The innumerable economic and social problems of readjustment, with which every community of the nation is now confronted, present a situation where I feel that I can be of more service by returning to the practice of my profession than by remaining upon the bench."

He added that he felt that "after all, life consists not of a mere place of security, but in the adventure of creative effort. It is with this motive and spirit that I am leaving the work which I have much enjoyed."

The Providence Journal, in its summary of Letts's career as a judge, reported that "almost from the first, his handling of the bench attracted attention. . . . His record at the present time is that in all the cases, either criminal or civil, which he has conducted before juries in Rhode Island, New York or Massachusetts, there have been only five where the juries did not reach a verdict, or reached a verdict which was not upheld later."

* * * * *

A Thorn for Mr. Farley

REPRESENTATIVE CHARLES D. MILLARD '97, Republican, of New York, introduced in the House of Representatives last month a resolution authorizing the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads to call Postmaster General James A. Farley for an investigation of the allegations by stamp collectors that Mr. Farley had given to President and Mrs. Roosevelt and other high officials, as well as friends outside Washington, sheets of imperforate, un gummed stamps of recent special issues. These sheets are said to have increasing value, individual stamps already being quoted at $250 and up. Millard's resolution was defeated on a straight party vote.

* * * * *

Praise for Dr. Round

THE Rhode Island Medical Journal, in a current issue, gave high praise in an editorial to Dr. Lester A. Round '10 and his associates in the laboratory of the State Board of Health for their "statistical and epidemiological studies, as well as their routine laboratory procedures in the fields of bacteriology, chemistry and pathology." The editorial pointed out that party politics and public health do not mix and urged that every physician object to any tinkering or tampering with the well-established methods of public health work.

* * * * *

Watching Kiwanis Grow

FRED C. W. PARKER '00 is now in his fourteenth year as secretary of Kiwanis International, with his offices in Chicago. During his time in office Kiwanis has grown from 533 clubs and 47,970 members to 1,831 clubs and approximately 83,000 members. Parker is actively interested in industrial relations, public school education and similar work and at present is head of the Chicago Chapter, National Vocational Guidance Association.

* * * * *

The Best Mortality Record

DR. HARMON P. JORDAN was re-elected superintendent of Providence Lying-In Hospital at the annual meeting last month. Dr. Edward S. Brackett, chief of staff, told the corporation that the hospital "had a maternal mortality rate probably lower than can be shown by any hospital in this country doing a similar type of work." Dr. Jordan reported that the hospital completed all work in 1934 with no added deficit.

* * * * *

To Guide New York's Charter

CHARLES E. HUGHES, JR., '09, is one of nine prominent citizens of New York named by Mayor La Guardia to undertake the difficult task of drafting a new city charter for New York. The Charter Revision Commission, appointed last month, is to be given a free hand, and the Mayor expressed the hope that his appointees would have completed their work by next fall so that the new charter will be ready to submit to the voters in November.

War and the President

THE United States 'made one of the greatest mistakes in history' when it did not join the League of Nations," wrote President Clarence A. Barbour of Brown University in answering the peace-poll being conducted by the Association of College Editors and the Literary Digest. "The world has paid a bitter price for that mistake," he added. "Our delay to enter the World Court has also been to our sore discredit."

In reply to the question on whether the United States can stay out of another great war, President Barbour said that it would be "very difficult" to get the nation into another world conflict after the "folly" of the past war. When asked if he would bear arms if the United States were invaded, and if he would bear arms should the nation invade another country, President Barbour said, "In the incredible event of an armed invasion, I expect that I would do what I could in defense of my country. I can conceive of no cause which would carry me as a combatant within the borders of another country."

President Barbour, in maintaining that the poll's question on the anti-war effects of "An American Navy and Air Force Second to None" suggests "offensive jingoism," declared that he believes in "a national force sufficient to command respect." He is unqualifiedly in favor of government control of armament and munitions industries.

"In the case of war it should be made impossible for any citizen to make financial gain from the sorrow and loss of the nation or its citizens," President Barbour continued. "If man power were drafted, every resource should share the like treatment."

The Brown Christian Association has been holding a number of student parleys concerning current affairs, particularly concerning the question of private manufacture and sale of ammunitions.

* * * * *

For Finger-Printing

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, JR., '97, responding to a recommendation by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Division of Investigation, Department of Justice, that all citizens have their finger-prints on file at the Bureau of Identification in Washington, was finger-printed in New York City last month. "I've had them taken many times," Rockefeller told a group at a public luncheon at which Mr. Hoover spoke. "If Mr. Hoover says it's a good thing, I believe in it."

* * * * *

High Life and Water Fleas

DISCOVERIES which hint that the "rate of living" or possibly even the mere quantity of food eaten, may have a great deal to do with the length of life of higher animals and humans are reported from the Department of Biology at Brown University.

Working under the direction of Professor Arthur M. Banta, Lester Ingles, research student, has found that water-fleas or Daphnia longispina, which have body systems and physiological characteristics much like higher animals, live on the average 50 per cent longer when their food supply is cut down.

The limited amount of food slows up the "rate of living" in the Daphnia. In one sense, according to Professor Banta, the tiny animals "burn out" more slowly because with little food they neither produce nor use as much energy.

"Having the general similarities of animal life in mind, one is tempted to surmise that results with this lowly cousin of the lobster, together with results obtained with rats at Cornell University, may possibly point to an often-suspected principle of human longevity—a lower rate of living, less luxury, and a less intense life," Professor Banta said.

* * * * *

Intercollegiate Fliers Organize

HENRY R. PALMER, JR., a Senior at Brown University, was elected the first president of the New England Intercollegiate Flying Club, organized at Amherst. Representatives of six New England colleges and universities ratified a constitution.

Mr. Palmer, who is president of the Brown Flying Club, will attend a conference of the National Intercollegiate Flying Club at Washington, probably in April, for the purpose of having the New England Club become a branch or unit of the nation-wide organization.

The Brown Flying Club has a membership of about 25 and automatically became a unit of the New England Club. Others in it include Amherst, Smith College, Dartmouth, M. I. T. and Harvard. An effort will be made to include Yale University and Norwich Military Academy in the club's membership. A school or university must have three fliers in its own flying club or organization to be eligible for membership in the New England organization. Most of the school flying units use rented planes.

Brown fliers have records of flying hours ranging from 50 to 1000.

* * * * *

The Providence Celebration in 1936

A Corporation Committee appointed to co-operate with the Providence Tercentenary Committee is as follows: Professor Theodore Collier, Chairman, E. A. Burlingame, Henry G. Clark '07, Henry C. Hart '01, Professor J. B. Hedges, and Dr. L. C. Wroth.

* * * * *

Matriculated at 70

FRANK L. MORSE '86 who retired a year ago as principal of Harrison Technical High School, Chicago, has matriculated at the University of Chicago and is carrying on studies there even though he is 70 years old.

"He continues in his search for the fundamental satisfactions of life," said a letter writer in the Chicago Daily News. "My own father, Edward E. Collins, at the age of 75 is carrying three major subjects at the University of South Dakota. As a means of livelihood he drives a milk route twice daily and for fun he plays the bass viol in the University Symphony and sings in the church choir. . . . I salute the spirit which does not recognize an age of retirement."

* * * * *

The Original Orange Man

John Reeves, once celebrated at Brown University's "original orange man," was seen in a 70-year-old photo reproduced in the Providence News-Tribune's "Rhode Island Pageant." The picture is in the collection of Horace Belcher at Lakewood, R. I.

* * * * *

The Judson Family Tree

The Alumni Office is indebted to the Rev. Clarence M. Gallup, D.D., '96, for the genealogical chart that Dr. Gallup has made with reference to the Rev. Edward Judson, D.D., 1865 son of the famous Adoniram Judson, 1807, and, like his father, a missionary to Burma.

* * * * *

Heads Harvard Medical Alumni

Dr. Edwin A. Locke '96, Clinical Professor of Medicine at Harvard Medical School, is the new president of the Harvard Medical Alumni Association.

A Boom Year in the Alumni Office

The Report of the Alumni Secretary to the Advisory Council

I HAVE the honor to submit my thirteenth annual report as Alumni Secretary. One of the saving factors of the Alumni Secretary's work is that the routine of it is always mixed with interesting developments. It may sound somewhat strange but it is nevertheless a fact that, as far as the Alumni Office is concerned, 1934-35 has been a boom year in new activities.

The year has seen the actual beginnings of the Alumni Co-operative Admissions Program. Of this plan and its progress you will hear later from Mr. Charles J. Hill '16. The year has seen a definite movement to develop undergraduate loyalties and in this way to produce better alumni. The year has also seen the initiation of the idea to make use of the natural advantages of Narragansett Bay as an asset to Brown with significant possibilities.

There has likewise been established a Class Reunions Committee for the express purpose of making reunions mean more, of increasing interest in Commencement, of opening opportunity to get before reunion classes the story of what Brown is doing and of Brown's educational objectives.

Under the impulse of the Executive Committee there has been a concerted effort to bring the Brown Clubs into closer contact and sympathy with the University. Correspondence between the Alumni Office and the Brown Clubs has been more regular and greater in volume than ever before. No Club president or secretary, if he reads with intelligence, can truthfully say that he does not know what is going on to establish an alumni program, to create and improve ways of interesting alumni in the University, to encourage the largest possible number of alumni to give some thought and some time to work for Brown.

A. H. GURNEY '07

LETTERS from President Barbour and President Chafee have gone out on several opportune occasions to all alumni. The University calendar is being sent to a wider and wider circle of Brown men. The new edition of "Student Life at Brown" has been mailed to every Brown man with a degree and to a select list of men who did not receive degrees but whose interest in the University is none the less alive. The reception of "Student Life at Brown" has been enthusiastic throughout the country. It is the best piece of publicity that the University has yet prepared. That is not my opinion, but the opinion of alumni who know publicity when they see it, who judge such publicity by form and content and by what is known in the trade as reader appeal.

The BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY continues to stand out among alumni magazines. To the Alumni Office each month comes a cross section of alumni magazines from Maine to California, and I invite comparison of the excellent ones with the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY without fear of disparagement of the publication of which Mr. Worthington is the modest but efficient editor.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

The inability of the Alumni Secretary, owing to lack of a travel fund, to make direct contact at least once a year with all the Brown Clubs is the weak point in the whole scheme of alumni work. Yet in the year I have visited the Brown Clubs in New York, Boston, New Haven, Hartford, Scranton, Connecticut Valley, Newport, Western Maine, New Bedford and Woonsocket. I have written news letters on request to the Clubs in Detroit, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Rochester, Amherst and Cleveland.

President Barbour, Vice Presidents Mead and Adams, Dean Arnold, Dean Currier, Dr. Bigelow, Professors Theodore Collier and W. H. Kenerson, Coach McLaughry and others from the University have played their parts to bring the University and the alumni nearer together. President Barbour will start next week on a visit to Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago and Buffalo. Dr. Bigelow will be with him in Cleveland and Detroit, and possibly in Chicago.

In April President Barbour will go to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Albany, Syracuse and Rochester. Dr. Bigelow, now visiting schools in the Middle West, will meet the alumni in Pittsburgh, Akron, Canton, Youngstown, St. Louis and other centres. During the past month Professor Charles A. Kraus found time on a trip to the Pacific Coast to stop off at Denver for a meeting with the small but loyal group of Brown men there.

The fact is emphasized that every Brown group this side of the Rocky Mountains can have in the course of a year a speaker from the University if it has enough gumption to get together and ask for one.

THE Brown Club of Chicago observed its 60th anniversary during the year. The occasion was a noteworthy one, bringing together nearly every man in the Chicago area. Taking part were the presidents of the alumni associations of Yale and Dartmouth in Chicago. The Chicago Club continues to be thoroughly alive, as the University administration, as well as the Alumni Office, will admit. It is giving one of the Brown University Club Prize Scholarships, and it has a more than academic interest in the award of the Lester L. Falk Scholarship, established in memory of Lester L. Falk '06, former officer of the Club and originator with William Allan Dyer '86 of the Regional Plan of the Associated Alumni.

The Brown Club of Cleveland had the largest number present in its history when President Barbour visited it last spring. Here is another Club which is going forward steadily under young management, most of its officers having been graduated within the past ten years. Young blood in the Brown Club of Washington has also given fresh impetus to that old-established unit.

The spring meeting of the Brown Club of Boston, a testimonial to Professor F. W. Marvel, was a memorable one. It was an enthusiastic gathering, well arranged, well directed. And one of its most satisfying aspects was the presence of men from Harvard, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Dartmouth, Tufts, Holy Cross, Boston College and Boston University to testify to Professor Marvel's attributes as athletic director and exponent of sportsmanship.

The alumni groups in San Francisco and Oakland have united to form the Brown Club of Alta California, the old Spanish name for the northern part of the State. The new Club has had two meetings in the past half year. One of its members, George C. Channing '11, gave the baccalaureate address at the University of California in June—a signal and a fitting honor when we recall that Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the Brown class of 1870 was responsible for the development and high standards of this great State university.

ONE new unit, the Brown Club of Scranton-Wilkes-Barre, was organized last March. In April, when I was on my way to the annual meeting of the American Alumni Council at Skytop, Pa., I was the guest of the Club, together with Mrs. Gertrude Allen McConnell, Alumnae Secretary, and Mrs. James H. Chase, President of the Alumnae Association. A pleasing fact of the meeting was the presence of five high school boys who wanted to hear about Brown. Two of them are now members of the Freshman Class.

Byron S. Hollinshead '27, an organizer of the Club, has since become president of Scranton-Keystone Junior College. He is the second Brown graduate in the year 1934 to take office as a college president. The other is Dr. Gordon K. Chalmers '25, president of Rockford College, Rockford, Ill., the oldest college for women in the Middle West. Dr. Chalmers, a Rhodes Scholar, shows that the Oxford training is not an insurmountable bar to getting on in the world.

The Brown Club of Woonsocket has come to life again after being dormant for four years, and the Brown Club of Hartford is once more on the active list after two years of inactivity. There is emphatic need of reorganizing and revitalizing the Brown Club of Philadelphia, one of the oldest in the association.

The Brown Club of New Haven, hit by bank failures and similar phenomena of the times, carries on with remarkable spirit. Its dinner for Professor Marvel the night before the Brown-Yale game compensated somewhat for the defeat next day in the Yale Bowl. Yale, Wesleyan and Brown, all of whom look upon Professor Marvel with affection, were represented at the dinner, and it was a privilege to be a guest and to feel that there prevails a friendly and understanding spirit among these universities. The New Haven Club in December held a highly successful meeting in Bridgeport, with Dean Arnold as the speaker.

THE Brown Engineering Association which now meets regularly in New York, Boston and Providence, has just issued a directory of all engineering alumni which is a model of compilation and information. The Association has always been careful to select officers who give time and study to the Association's work and who keep close contact with the Alumni Office.

The Brown Club of Providence, under effective leadership, goes forward on the platform that its business is to afford the means whereby its members may serve Brown in every helpful way. It operates on a planned budget. It was the first to offer a Brown University Club Prize Scholarship.

It has recently increased its contribution to the Brown Debating Union. It is supporting special activities at the Brown Infirmary through Professor Arthur L. Washburn. It is giving what it can to student relief. It is aiding the Brown Musical Clubs and the Brown Orchestra. With Dean Arnold, it is studying the problem of the loss of student personnel from entrance to graduation.

It merits the admiration and deserves the moral support of all Brown Clubs, and the financial support of every Brown man in the metropolitan district of Providence.

A similar statement may be made about the Brown University Club in New York. Here again wise leadership, an executive secretary who knows what he is doing and how to do it, a diversified program, and committees which do the work assigned to them with thoroughness and zeal, combine to make an organization in which every Brown man can have a justifiable pride. An innovation of the Club which may well be imitated elsewhere—and it has been in Chicago and Cleveland—is to invite fathers of undergraduates in the New York City area to the Club to meet the alumni and hear talks about Brown from administrative officers.

THE Associated Alumni hold membership in the American Alumni Council. At the 20th annual meeting of the Council last April the Alumni Secretary was elected to the Board of Directors for 1934-35. He led the discussion on the topic, "Attracting New Students." He also took part in the meeting of District One of the Council at Middlebury College in October, reading a paper on "Relation of the Alumni Organization to the College Administration."

The Alumni Office is immediately concerned with the preparation of the new edition of the Brown University Historical Catalogue. President Chafee and the Alumni Secretary are members of the Historical Catalogue Committee, and the Alumni Office aides, Miss Himes, in charge of the Graduate Records, and Miss Nickerson, assistant, are co-operating with the staff which, under Vice President Adams, is gathering and compiling the material. The work has brought to light many new facts. It means additions to and corrections in the present records, thus adding to the routine office tasks.

The Alumni Office is working in harmony with the Alumni Fund. It is helping Rhode Island Alpha, Phi Beta Kappa, to trace descendants of Phi Beta Kappa members. It is now compiling lists for reunion class secretaries, and encouraging the fraternities to bring their alumni addresses up to date. Since the last Advisory Council meeting, Miss Himes reports, the number of address changes in the Alumni Office requiring new stencils has been 1,689.

Is the Alumni Office alert to the quick and varying changes of the times? Is its technique getting sharper and more to the point? Does it try to keep ideas and spirit from becoming mangled in the machinery? Does it find stimulation in the work for the alumni and Brown?

These are questions that must constantly be asked, and discussed, and answered as clearly and correctly as possible.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED H. GURNEY,
Alumni Secretary

February 21, 1935.

Shades Down on Reynolds '24

(From the Editor's Column of Collier's Weekly)

"GIVE us Quentin Reynolds every week," demands Mr. Carl M. Davidson of Danville, Illinois. "Yeah, and twice a week if you can." Mr. Davidson, a sports writer himself, says that Mr. Reynolds is "the best that has come along. Where did this fellow come from? Is he a former newspaper-man?"

Mr. Reynolds is a Brooklyn boy from hard by the Gowanus Canal. After learning all the tricks in Brooklyn, he played football at Brown University. Wrote sports for the Hearst papers. Served that string in Berlin, Germany, where he learned two hundred and seventeen stein songs. Is very young, very large, very vigorous. Has red hair, a red face and red hands. Begins to undress as he starts writing. By the time the piece is finished, shades have to be pulled down.

* * *

Selling Life Insurance

KENILWORTH H. MATHUS '22 is the author of his third book on salesmanship entitled, "More Sales." "With his first book, The Eyes Have It, (all visual), his second volume, Fifty Interviews, Fifty Sales, (all dialog), and his newest work (all story), the author," says a note from the publishers, "maintains an enviable reputation for being different—and interesting."

More than 55,000 miles of travel were undertaken in preparation for this book, we learn, and consultations were held with hundreds of successful salesmen in all parts of the country.

Mr. Mathus has been for several years in charge of sales promotion, advertising and publicity for The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, prior to which he was a salesman for The Penn Mutual in Providence. Since 1925, he has edited The Connecticut Mutual's magazine, ConMuTopics, which for a number of years has received either First or Second Award as the best magazine issued by any United States life insurance company.

He was the founder of the flourishing organization known as the Life Advertisers Association, which represents the sales promotion activities of some one hundred life insurance companies in this country and Canada.

* * *

Adoniram Judson and Burma

A CORRESPONDENT writes in to recommend Honoré Willis Morrow's Splendor of God, which is based on the dramatic experiences of the famous missionary son of Brown, Adoniram Judson. It describes his adventures in 1813 as he and his beautiful wife came to Burma—he "fresh from New England, young, handsome, impulsive, inspired by faith and his Ann to become a great leader of men." Published by William Morrow & Co., the book had a good press and merits a reading if it is still unknown.

* * *

Howard M. Chapin '08, secretary of the Rhode Island Historical Society, is the author of a 26-page pamphlet published by the Society of Colonial Wars in Rhode Island on "The Trading Post of Roger Williams with those of John Wilcox and Richard Smith."

Activities of the Brown Clubs

Presidential Dates

PRESIDENT BARBOUR, visiting Brown Alumni in the Middle West as this is written, will make two trips to Brown Clubs in April. He will visit the Philadelphia Brown Club on April 2, the Baltimore Brown Club on April 3, and the Brown Club of Washington on April 4.

He will attend the dinner of the Brown Club of Boston, April 10. On April 22 he will be the guest of the Brown Club of Rochester, and then will visit the Brown Club of Syracuse on April 23, and be the principal speaker at the annual Brown dinner in New York, April 24. He will go to Albany next day for a meeting with the Brown Club which includes that city, Schenectady and Troy.

* * *

Hartford

ONE of the most enthusiastic meetings in the History of the Brown Club of Hartford took place at the University Club in Hartford, Wednesday evening, Feb. 6, with Coach D. O. McLaughry, former Capt. William J. Karaban '35 of the Brown football team, and A. H. Gurney '07, Alumni Secretary, as speakers from the University. Another guest was Bert Keane, sports editor of the Hartford Courant, friend of many years of Coach McLaughry and the Alumni Secretary, and one of the sanest commentators on sports in the East.

Stuart (Skip) Henderson '27, sports writer on the Hartford Times, was also present to make a neat speech and to see that the meeting received first-class publicity. Professor C. A. Stuart '18 of the Department of Biology, in Hartford on business, attended and met several of his former students.

Coach McLaughry and Capt. Karaban talked football, of course, and there was much interest in what each had to say about the coming season and the schedule for 1936. Coach McLaughry showed pictures of the Brown-Columbia game of 1934 and of the Yale-Brown game of 1932 with running comment. President Harold A. McKay '18 was happy in his introductions, and Jesse M. Bailey, Jr., son of Jesse M. Bailey '16, played the piano, showing a fine musical knowledge of Brown songs. John W. Wilson, Jr., friend of young Bailey, was a guest, and it is likely that both boys will be enrolled at Brown next fall.

At the annual election Dr. Vernon K. Kriebel '07, chairman of the Department of Chemistry at Trimty College, was chosen president to succeed McKay. Cyrus G. Flanders '18, who was largely responsible for arrangements for the meeting, is the new secretary, and Marion K. Denison '83 will again be treasurer.

Present were Alton Green '11, Rev. Franklin D. Elmer '95, A. L. Budlong '24, M. Allyn Wadhams '14, Dr. Maurice M. Pike '21, Reginald W. Ray '27, John D. Avery '19, Herman Kwasha '28, G. Robert Mullans '28, Robert D. Allison '30, C.

Manton Eddy '22, William A. Murray '18, Frank O. Jones '97, Daniel Howard '93, Lawrence R. Smith '20, Dr. Maurice B. Thompson '25, Edward R. Granniss '24, Alexander D. Campbell '20, Burton B. Lovell, Jr. '28, Albert M. Van Wagenen '26, Dr. R. A. Goodell '24, F. P. Brown, Jr. '25, Benjamin F. Crehore '28, Dr. Henry Welch '25, P. G. Anderson '10, Rev. Abel Fahlquist, Ph.D. '20, Dr. Charles Mirabile '25, W. H. Henshaw '23, Jesse M. Bailey '16, and the alumni and guests previously mentioned.

Frank O. Jones spoke briefly of the splendid life and career of his late classmate, Frank R. Wheeler, a former president of the Club

* * *

Woonsocket

AFTER thirty years of faithful service Frederic E. Whitaker '88 has stepped down as an officer of the Brown Club of Woonsocket. Rev. S. A. Livingstone, who took his A.M. degree in 1928, succeeded Mr. Whitaker as president at the meeting of the Club held in the rooms of the Methodist Church, Woonsocket, Jan. 31, with President Barbour and the Alumni Secretary as the speakers from the University.

Other officers for 1935 are: Vice President, Morris E. Yaraus '25; Secretary, Richard H. Place '26; Treasurer, R. Ralph Fitzpatrick '26; Executive Committee, F. E. Whitaker '88, Woodworth L. Carpenter '30, Dr. H. Lorenzo Emidy '19.

President Barbour gave a stirring talk on Brown affairs and certain Brown problems, with a call at the end for every Brown man to give his thought and aid seriously to improve the situation, economic, political, and spiritual, in his community. The Alumni Secretary reported on the Alumni Co-operative Admissions Program and similar alumni topics.

Mr. Whitaker reviewed the work of President E. Benjamin Andrews '70 as a college leader in national action, and read letters from and about "Benny." The alumni also heard the voices of President Andrews and President Faunce on phonograph records. President Barbour told a number of characteristic anecdotes of President Andrews. The meeting ended with some spectacular bits of magic by a Woonsocket magician.

Fathers present included former Congressman Ambrose Kennedy, Judge Herbert A. Carpenter and Judge Everett L. Walling '96.

* * *

Rochester

OWING to the resignation of Rev. Wilbour E. Saunders '16 to become headmaster of Peddie School, the Brown Club of Rochester has returned Edward W. Holmes '03 to his old position of secretary-treasurer. "We were sorry to lose him, as he was warming up well to the job," Holmes wrote of Saunders. He went on: "We expect Bruce Bigelow this month (February) and may arrange a luncheon for him if the time is right. We are also looking forward to the visit of President Barbour some time in the spring."

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

President Barbour has since named April 22 as the date of his return to his favorite city (next to Providence).

* * *
Engineers

Two luncheon meetings of the Brown Engineering Association have been held in New York City in recent weeks in connection with the annual meetings of the American Society of Civil Engineers and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. The Executive Committee at its January session elected Stanley M. Dore '20 of Boston a director of the Association, recognizing the good work that Dore has done in the Boston area in the past few years.

Frank E. Winsor '91 was guest at the civil engineering luncheon. He gave a brief historical sketch of the University and brought out points new or unfamiliar to his hearers. He said that he had been making study of Brown's history in order that he might be better qualified to serve as Alumni Trustee.

For the luncheon of the electrical engineers, Secretary Charles G. Burgess '24 reported, "we were delighted to have as our guest, Mrs. Arthur E. Watson, who had accompanied Professor Watson on his trip to New York. Professor Watson and Professor Tompkins led an informal discussion on questions of interest to all of us away from the campus."

* * *
Scranton-Wilkes-Barre

DISCUSSION of the Alumni Co-operative Admissions Program and appointment of a sub-freshman committee, D. R. Atherton '31, Henry W. Peterson '21, and Allyn J. Crooker '28, occupied the attention of the Brown Club of Scranton-Wilkes-Barre at its meeting at the Hotel Jermyn, Scranton, late in January.

President William E. Bright '07 said that Dr. Bruce M. Bigelow '24, Director of Admissions, was arranging to visit Scranton in April to speak at several city high schools and also at Scranton-Keystone Junior College of which Byron S. Hollinshead '27 is president. The Club will meet with Dr. Bigelow at the college on invitation of President Hollinshead.

* * *
Providence

THE Brown Club of Providence is facing another year of increased usefulness, and asks seriously for the continued support of its members and friends, Earl M. Pearce '17, re-elected president at the well-attended annual meeting at the Faculty Club, Feb. 12, said in his interesting, concise report on what the Brown Club is doing.

President Barbour was the guest at the Faculty Club, where the members had a buffet supper and heard President Barbour talk about the importance of alumni assistance in solving the University's problems and the preliminary plans for the Brown Alumni Fund of 1935. They also approved reports of the secretary, W. Easton Louttit '25, and the secretary, F. E. Schoeneweiss '20.

Re-elected with President Pearce were Brenton G. Smith '11, vice president; W. Easton Louttit '25, secretary; and F. E. Schoeneweiss '20, treasurer. Smith will also continue as chairman of the Executive Committee, the working unit of the Club, which will be made up as follows this year: Henry C. Hart '01, Fred A. Otis '03, Raymond Buss '09, Herbert Eddy Easton '11, Sidney Clifford '15, Clarence H. Philbrick '13, William B. Farnsworth '17, Alexander T. Hindmarsh '19, Ralph C. Knight '21, Robert H. Goff '24, Edward T. Richards '27, Nelson B. Jones, Jr., '28, Mason B. Merchant '25, Matthew W. Goring '26, Nelson J. Conlong '28, T. Robley Louttit '32, John P. Hartigan '09, and Henry E. Stanton '34.

After the meeting the members of the club attended the Brown-Harvard hockey game in a body.

Special features of Visiting Day were pointed out by President Barbour and Mr. Pearce in a communication to each of the Providence alumni, and many of them attended the open lectures, the convocation, and departmental meetings.

* * *
Alta California

THE annual meeting of the Brown Club of Alta California at the University Club, San Francisco, Feb. 16, brought out a large number of alumni, making the occasion an enjoyable one. The guest was Professor Frank H. Probert, dean of the College of Mining of the University of California and father of Alwyn Probert '25.

Dean Probert gave "a thoughtful address upon the obligations and opportunities of the college man in these changing times." George Channing '11 "roused enthusiasm in recalling the traditions and ideals of Brown," and George F. Weston '78, "the Club's oldest and most honored member, told of campus capers in the middle seventies and exhibited a stick that he had salvaged from a cane rush" by an amusing dodge which fooled his opponents.

Brunonians Far and Near

BY A. H. GURNEY

1866

Orray Taft wrote from his home at 170 St. Marks Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., last month asking for the date of Commencement, saying that he intended to be present.

1877

The January number of the American Journal of Ophthalmology contained an appreciation of the late Dr. Howard Forde Hansell, able and scholarly ophthalmologist who had been active in Philadelphia for fifty years. "Howard Forde Hansell fitted well into the scheme of his native city and attained pre-eminence through merit alone," said Dr. Samuel Horton Brown, who wrote the appreciation.

1878

Stephen O. Metcalf was re-elected president of the Providence Journal Company at the last annual meeting.

George F. Weston, oldest member of the Brown Club of Alta California, was a speaker at the annual meeting of the Club in San Francisco last month. He told of some of the campus capers of the college

The Club re-elected Nathaniel Blaisdell '83 president and, after giving Dr. T. Harper Goodspeed '09 a vote of thanks for his efficient work as secretary, asked him again to take the office.

Col. LeRoy Bartlett '02 described a service which the Club might well adopt as helpful to Brown and to the Club. There will be more about this excellent idea in the next issue.

Other alumni attending were Rev. Stacy R. Warburton '98, Trueman D. Woodbury '03, Ralph W. Chandler '04, S. D. Weston '08, Fremont E. Roper '11, Harvey G. Denham '15, S. Watson Smith '19, David G. Goddard '24.

* * *
Reunions and Secretaries

AT a joint meeting of the Association of Class Secretaries and the Class Reunions Committee in Fauce House, Feb. 15, Archibald C. Matteson '93 was re-elected president of the first-named body. Nelson B. Jones, Jr. '28, has succeeded Henry S. Chafee '09 as secretary, and Clarence H. Philbrick '13 is the new treasurer. The executive committee will be made up of the officers and George L. Miner '97, Walter Adler '18, and Robert H. Goff '24.

Lawrence Lanpher '23, chairman of the Class Reunions Committee, outlined the purpose of the committee and urged all the reunion classes to begin work at once to create interest in their gatherings at Commencement. The committee is compiling facts with regard to organizing and running reunions which will be on file at the Alumni Office for use of all reunion committees.

Webb W. Wilder '19 gave detailed report of the 15th reunion of his class, and there were reports and suggestions by Elmer S. Horton '10, C. L. Robinson '05, Francis W. Post '14, Fred A. Otis '03, W. A. McAuslan '96, Henry C. Aylsworth '20, William H. Hull '01, Dr. A. W. Eckstein and Shirley S. Elsbree '25, C. J. Hill '16, and Donald S. Flynn '30.

days and of Brown men and Brown affairs as he has followed them through the years.

1885

Former Supreme Court Justice Norman S. Dike was a witness to the wedding of Miss Doris Duke, one of the wealthy young women of the world, and James H. R. Cromwell in New York City last month. Justice Dike is a family friend of the Dukes, the New York Herald Tribune said.

1887

The will of the late Dr. Louis Franklin Snow was filed in Chattanooga, Tenn., late in January. The value of the estate, it was said, was between $20,000 and $25,000. Bequests were made to his son, to his ward, and to several friends.

Governor Theodore Francis Green may now wear an Indian war bonnet, having become honorary chief sachem of the National Algonquin Council, which is trying to start an educational program for the Indian boys and girls of Rhode Island and to raise a fund for restoring Indian arts and crafts on the reservation at Charlestown in South County.

1890

Walter S. Reynolds, Clerk of the Superior Court for Providence and Bristol Counties since the court was established in July, 1905, was put out by the Democratic regime last month, and was then appointed special assistant by his successor. His service as Clerk had been a notable one. Accurate, courteous, especially friendly and helpful to young lawyers, he has had the respect and confidence of judges, lawyers, and laymen. Trust in his ability and knowledge of court procedure has been implicit. "His office has run so smoothly, there has never been anything unusual in connection with his work," Willard R. Terry, in a fine character sketch of Reynolds in the Providence Evening Bulletin, quoted a judge of the Superior Court as saying.

Edwin Collins Frost reports a change of address to 1502 Alice Street, Oakland, Calif.

Edward C. B. Stines, the Class secretary, is at his winter home in Frostproof, Fla., but some of the members of the Class have already begun discussing the 45th Reunion next June and Dr. Harry L. Grant is preparing to send out a preliminary letter about the event next June.

1892

Dr. Marshall S. Brown, Dean of the Faculties of New York University, and Mrs. George Switzer of New York City announced their engagement last month. Mrs. Switzer is the former Miss Josephine Marshall of Brooklyn.

James C. Collins has again been elected president of the Animal Rescue League of Providence.

1893

Stephen A. Hopkins, reporting his mail address to be Biddeford, Me., adds that he is engaged in engineering and acting in an advisory capacity in advertising campaigns for patrons of the Biddeford Journal.

1894

Charles S. Aldrich, member of the law firm of Murphy, Aldrich, Guy and Broderick, was elected a director of the Union National Bank of Troy, N. Y., at the last annual meeting. Aldrich has served three terms as a director of the Troy Chamber of Commerce and one term as president.

J. Winn Brown was recently named to the executive committee of the Delta Kappa Epsilon Alumni Association of Boston.

1896

Allison Stone has been re-elected general manager of the Providence Journal Company for 1935.

John S. Murdock, retired from the Rhode Island Supreme Court by the Democratic General Assembly the first of the year, is actively engaged in his hobby of many years—research into the life and writings of former President E. Benjamin Andrews '70.

1897

Frank O. Jones is one of a small number of men in this country to receive the silver beaver award, the highest honor conferred by the Boy Scouts of America on adults identified with their work. The award to Jones was made by Charter Oak Council, Hartford, Conn., which cited him for his association with scouting for twenty years. He was chairman of the leadership and training committee of Charter Oak Council in 1932 and 1933, and a member of the same committee in 1934.

1898

Col. Frank E. Hopkins, U.S.A., is the modest possessor of a Past National Commander's jewel recently given him at a meeting of Manhattan Chapter, National Sojourners, in New York City. Officers who have served in the Army or Navy make up the National Sojourners.

George H. Sherwood of the American Museum of Natural History is a member of the Municipal Art Committee of One Hundred named by Mayor La Guardia of New York City "to co-operate with the city government in the formation of a progressive municipal art program which will stimulate the artistic life and expression of the city."

Dr. Charles Carroll, chairman of the Rhode Island State Apprenticeship Agency, made public last month the State's plan for apprentice training as approved by the Federal Government for the regulation of training under NRA. One of Carroll's co-workers is L. Metcalfe Walling '30.

1899

The Commuters' Quartet of the University Glee Club of New York continues to be the most popular unit of its kind in the metropolitan area. Howard C. Barber goes right on winning plaudits as one of the basses. The other members are Percy Morningstar, Wesleyan, Roger Bird, Dartmouth, and Clarence E. Davies, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Miss Ellen Hathaway, daughter of Guilford C. Hathaway and Mrs. Hathaway, and Elton W. Follett of Lansing, Mich., were married in Fall River, Mass., Jan. 25, 1935. Mrs. Follett is a graduate of Emerson College.

Edward A. Stockwell has been appointed chairman of the budget committee of the Providence Community Fund, Inc., for which he has done a large amount of valuable work in recent years.

1901

President Edward A. Kingsley of the Hampshire Male Chorus and Col. G. A. Taylor have published a new song, "English Ivy," for the use of men singers. Their song, "Dolorosa," met with such success in Northampton, Springfield, Amherst and elsewhere they decided to keep up the work begun, and "English Ivy" was the result. A copy of the song has been given the Brown Musical Clubs by Colonel Taylor.

1902

Lieut. Colonel LeRoy Bartlett, U.S.A., retired, secretary and chief examiner of the Alameda County Civil Service Commission in Oakland, Calif., has about 2,000 employes under him at the present time. His son Robert is an accountant, while LeRoy Bartlett, Jr., is a second lieutenant with the 6th Engineers, U.S.A., at Fort Lawton, Wash.

1903

E. W. Holmes, with the Lawyers Cooperative Publishing Company, has again become secretary of the Brown Club of Rochester, succeeding Rev. W. E. Saunders '16, who resigned to accept the headmastership of Peddie School, Hightstown, N. J.

Robert Forster and A. L. Philbrick took part in the proceedings of the Advisory Council of the Associated Alumni at the University, Feb. 21 and 22. Forster represented the Brown Club of Albany, Schenectady-Troy, and Philbrick was present as a trustee of the Brown Alumni Fund. Philbrick recently retired as chairman of the Brown Bureau of Business Research in which he has been active since the Bureau was founded.

1905

Howard R. Heydon is vice chairman of the Silk Code Authority. He is associated with the National Federation of Textiles, Inc., in New York City.

Frederick Schwinn has become manager of the Blackinton Company, manufacturing jewelers, North Attleboro, Mass.

Capt. F. Webster Cook, U.S.A., is now on duty with the Coast Artillery Corps at Fort Mills, Manila, Philippine Islands. He left Fort Dupont, Delaware, in December to return to the Philippines, where he expects to be for the next two years.

Michael F. Costello is chairman of the Rhode Island Alcoholic Beverage Commission, having been named to succeed Patrick P. Curran, who resigned to become a judge of the Superior Court.

Leonard W. Cronkhite's new house address is 14 Appian Way, Cambridge, Mass.

William H. Albrecht reports that he is still receiving his mail at Veedersburg, Ind., R. R. 4.

John S. Palmer, 2nd, and Mrs. Palmer have the sincere sympathy of the Class in the loss of their older son, Julius Palmer, who went down with the steamship Mohawk off the New Jersey coast, Jan. 24. Young Palmer was one of a party of Williams College students bound for Yucatan, where they expected to make geological surveys under Professor Herdman F. Cleland. First report was that Palmer had been saved. Later reports showed that he, Professor Cleland and two others in the party of six were lost after the collision between the Mohawk and the freighter Talisman. Palmer, who was 22 years old, was a Senior at Williams. Seven '05 men attended the funeral in Providence, Jan. 29.

Frank E. Marble has been re-elected president for 1935 of the Mirabeau Fresh Air Camp, Inc., of Lynn, Mass.

1906

Dr. Charles C. Tillinghast, headmaster of Horace Mann School for Boys, New York City, spoke before the John Howland Parent-Teacher Association in Providence, Feb. 5, on "Problem Parents." He named six types of the breed, including the whisperers who "spread fantastic tales about school administration"; the parents who want to run things; the home-workers; the ultra moderns; the overly ambitious; and the parents who forget the spiritual side of their children.

Rev. Walter E. Woodbury reports a change of mail address to 5127 Eleventh Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif.

"What a laugh I got reading the 1905 notes in the February issue of the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY," Alexander Graham wrote the other day. "Of course 1905 is to be commended for even hoping to aspire to the reunions records of 1906. But how futile of them to think that they could approach our records! . . . I am still laughing, and I expect to be laughing when I march down the Hill in the Commencement procession at the thought of 1905 attempting to equal 1906 in reunion records."

1907

Rev. Merrick L. Streeter and Mrs. Streeter are settled once more in Tavoy, Burma, after a long leave of absence in this country. They have a new Ford car and touring outfit to aid them in their work in the remote towns and villages of their district, which embraces an area of 15,097 square miles. Since their return they have re-opened three Bible schools, started a new one, and in other ways given new life to educational, religious and social life in Tavoy. Their daughters, Harriett L. and Dorothy M. Streeter, are at Pembroke, and their daughter Mary is at Denison University, Granville, O.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

Rev. Dr. Eugene C. Carder, associate pastor of the Riverside Church, was unanimously elected president of the Greater New York Federation of Churches at a meeting of the board of directors last month. He is the Federation's first Baptist president. He has served as recording secretary and a member of the executive committee of the federation.

George E. Burnham has the sympathy of the Class in the loss of his mother, Mrs. Phebe H. (Monroe) Burnham, who died in Central Falls, Feb. 2, 1935, in her 83rd year.

Myron S. Curtis has recently had granted a United States patent for a tool carrier for a metal working machine. The patent was applied for in June, 1932.

William E. Bright and Mrs. Bright spent the month of February in Florida. William E. Bright, Jr., '36 and George C. Bright '38 are making excellent records as students on the Hill.

Henry G. Clark is again president of the Providence District Nursing Association, having been elected at the annual meeting and dinner in Providence, Jan. 29. Although the association suffered from budget cuts at the beginning of the year 1934 it nevertheless carried on efficiently in the field, caring for a total of 15,182 cases.

1908

Norman S. Case of the Federal Communications Commission and Mrs. Case are living this winter at the Wardman Park Hotel, Washington.

A. I. (Bin) Marshall's father, N. Monroe Marshall, died at his son's home in Malone, N. Y., Feb. 16. Mr. Marshall, Sr., was State Treasurer of New York, 1920-22, chairman of the board of the People's Trust Company of Malone, and for many years active in the political and civic life of his community. He was also treasurer and director of the H. D. Thompson Hardware Company, with which Bin is associated.

1909

Sydney Wilmot, manager of publications, American Society of Civil Engineers, was the guest speaker at the February meeting of the Providence Section of the society at Faunce House. His subject was "Intimate Glimpses of Society Work: Seeing the Publication Wheels Go Round."

Harry F. Cook, welfare worker with his headquarters at 43 Hawkins Street, Boston, reports his mail address "for the present" to be Beacon Chambers, 19 Myrtle Street.

Fred R. Budlong is with the Seaconnet Coal Company at 170 South Main Street, Providence.

1910

Albert O'Connor is back in Cleveland, O., after an absence of several years, one of our correspondents reports, and is with the air conditioning division of the General Electric Company. He is one of the active members of the Brown Club of Cleveland.

Donald S. Babcock has been appointed a member of the budget committee of the Providence Community Fund, Inc.

Joseph B. Keenan, Assistant Attorney General of the United States and foe of racketeers, made the address at the annual dinner of the New England Manufacturing Jewelers & Silversmiths' Association in Providence, Feb. 23. He gave a clear outline of changes necessary in the laws before the law can prevail.

1911

Robert F. Skillings represented the Brown Club of Western Maine (Portland) at the annual meeting of the Advisory Council of the Associated Alumni on the campus Feb. 21 and 22. Bob is secretary of the Maine unit.

DIRECTOR OF LABOR

L. Metcalfe Walling '30, named, despite his youth, to one of the most important State bureaus in the new Rhode Island reorganization.

Russell McKay will be host to Dr. Bruce M. Bigelow '24, Director of Admissions at the University, when Dr. Bigelow visits Youngstown, O., the middle of this month. Russ keeps busy as attorney for the Home Savings & Loan Company.

Robert D. Chase is sales manager with the Cyclopaedia Corporation of America, New York City. His new house address is 127 Kenilworth Road, Ridgewood, N. J.

1912

Howard P. Jones is manager of the Union Meat Company, a subsidiary of Swift & Company, in San Antonio, Tex. He's living with his family at 211 Mary Louise Drive, and he notes the fact that his son Richard will be ten years old this month and that his daughter Helen is going on six.

Francis X. Keresey, whose address has been lacking at the Alumni Office, has turned up safe and sound at 105 Neponset Avenue, Dorchester, Mass., where he is engaged in real estate business.

Capt. Wiley H. Marble, after being on duty at New Marlboro, Mass., where he went to reorganize a CCC Camp, has returned to Camp Greene, Montpelier, Vt., to command Company 2203 of the CCC. "The weather is grand," he wrote late in February. "It has been as cold as 50 below. It hung around a range of minus 25 to 40 for several weeks. Now we are seeing zero and plus around 11 A.M. With the sun very much in evidence, things are comfortable. . . . For exercise, plenty of it—skis, some skating, and walking."

1913

Edward A. C. Murphy has become a resident of Cohasset, Mass., from which he commutes to Boston to do promotion work for Medomak Camp. His office is at 248 Boylston Street. He has affiliated his camp with Medomak, under the director of which he started in camp activities in 1912. He is also giving talks before school assemblies and adult societies on science subjects.

Carlton Parker sets himself down as a manufacturer's agent with his business and home address at 608 Lafayette Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

1914

The midwinter reunion of the Class at the Narragansett Hotel, Providence, Jan. 26, was a great party. Prof. W. H. Kenerston '96 as the guest speaker gave an illustrated talk on the Brown Outing Reservation and there followed the proposal that the Class give a boathouse to be built at the camp at Greenville. Present were Dave Adelman, Heinie Beckwith, Sandy Beachen, Bob Holding, Chet Files, Jean Legris, Bob Lord, Leon McKenzie, Doc McLaughlin, Joe Nathanson, Francis (Tick) Post, Sid Wray, Maurice Wolf, Charlie Woolley, Morgan Rogers, Earl Medbery, Eli Viner and Nate Wright.

Robert S. Holding has resigned as president of the Republican Club of Rhode Island, giving as his reason that he was away so much from the city on business that he could not properly serve the Club.

E. A. Burlingame, Comptroller of the University, is the president of the Providence Art Club this year.

1915

Former State Senator John H. Greene, Jr., is now Clerk of the Superior Court for Newport County, having been elected last month by the Rhode Island General Assembly.

Professor Sharon O. Brown's father, Dr. J. Edmund Brown, died in Pembroke, Mass., Feb. 8, 1935, after an illness of several weeks. Dr. Brown, former resident of Providence, was the author of the song, "Hail, Rhode Island," and at one time was editor of The Nursing World. His daughter, Mrs. Bernice Cronkhite, is Dean of Radcliffe College. Sharon Brown and Mrs. Brown are at present in Europe.

1916

Irving C. White is with Slaughter, Anderson & Fox, brokers, 65 Broadway, New York City.

Henry Dursin, Jr., is a member of the newly-appointed committee of the Woonsocket Chamber of Commerce to draw up a program which will provide for more direct service to members of the Chamber in the manufacturing field.

Harry H. Burton has returned to Providence as manager in charge of manufacturing for the Lonsdale Company, which has mills in Cumberland, Hope, Blackstone, Mass., and in the South. Burton will have his office at historic 50 South Main Street. For the past seven years he has been vice president and general manager of the Slater Manufacturing Company, Webster, Mass.

1917

Judge Raymond E. Jordan received the insignia of the Purple Heart for his war service at a meeting of Business Men's Post, American Legion, in Providence last month. Attorney General John P. Hartigan '09 conferred the decoration.

1918

Rev. Earl H. Tomlin of Calvary Baptist Church, Providence, is giving a series of Sunday evening programs under the general title of "A Pictorial Pilgrimage to Palestine." Tomlin visited Palestine last summer.

Ralph Gordon is working for the Board of Elections, with his office in City Hall, Room 122, Cleveland, O.

Vincent B. Hackett, with the Associated American Distributors, Inc., agents for investment trust shares, has changed his headquarters to 309 Heartwell Building, Long Beach, Calif.

Gurney Edwards was re-elected president of the Travelers Aid Society of Providence at the sixth annual meeting last month. During the past year the society aided 3,599 persons, including a large number of the well-known hitch-hikers.

W. W. Chaplin is with the Rome, Italy, office of the International News Service.

1919

Daniel W. Coggeshall is the new postmaster of Bristol, R. I., where he has been a lively factor in politics for the past fifteen years. He is the youngest postmaster in Bristol's history. His father held the office during the Wilson Administration.

Dr. H. Lorenzo Emidy's correct mail address is 193 Gaskill Street, Woonsocket, R. I.

Since the first of the year Judge Kenneth D. Johnson has given a radio address, "The District Courts," over Station WAAB, Boston, and has spoken before the New England Associate Alliance on "The Court and the Juvenile." Both addresses, typed and bound for private circulation, are of absorbing interest, even to the lay reader.

1920

In a recent number of the New York Hotel Gazette there was a good picture of George O. Podd and an article telling of the dinner given George by the firm of Horwath & Horwath in honor of his admission to the firm as a partner. Horwath & Horwath do hotel auditing and their field is national in scope. George is a member of the Illinois Society of Certified Public Accountants, active in the American Legion and the Interfraternity Club of Chicago, and "is a great football fan." John Horwath characterized him as "young in years but rich in knowledge of the hotel, club and restaurant business."

George H. Rhodes, who is a research chemist with Stein, Hall & Company, 285 Madison Avenue, New York City, has taken an apartment at 5 West 63rd Street.

Rev. Carl J. Grabb, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Painted Post, N. Y., is New York State chaplain of the American Legion.

Major Ernest Santangini's mother, Mrs. Sofia (Leandra) Santangini, died in Providence, Feb. 5, 1935, after an illness of several weeks. She was a native of Gissi, Italy.

Louis Pieri, manager of the Rhode Island Auditorium, has lately been looking into professional basketball to see if the game might appeal to the Rhode Island sports public. "Lou is first and last a real dyed-in-the-wool basketball enthusiast," Joe Nutter '25 wrote in the Providence Evening Bulletin. "He will stop talking fish and game shows or flower shows any hour to launch into a discussion of basketball and the why and wherefore of its worth to player and spectator." Lou, as some of us will recall, brought basketball back to Brown right after the World War.

Henry C. Aylsworth, Thomas F. Vance, Jr., James Sinclair, Herbert Barlow and other members of the Class in Providence have started discussion of the 15th Reunion which comes in June. Bill Dewart, now in New York, has written that he will be glad to do what he can to stimulate interest in that city.

1921

W. W. Wilcox, Jr., is a member of the city staff of the Philadelphia Record, 317 North Broad Street, Philadelphia.

Frank A. R. Allen is superintendent of the public schools of Pawtucket.

The R. G. Sykes Cup, awarded by the Brown Club of Boston in memory of R. G. (Bill) Sykes, who founded the track games of the University Club of Boston, was put into competition last month. The cup is to be given each year to the college whose athlete is selected as the outstanding competitor and sportsman in the meet. The individual athlete will receive a medal. Bill Sykes was chairman of the University Club Athletic Committee for several years and in this office gave much of his time and energy to building up the annual track meet which carries the Club name.

Howard B. Stearns is in advertising work at 40 East 49th Street, New York City. The firm of Stearns, Hopkins & Co., Inc., which was formed two years ago, has been dissolved, a correspondent tells us.

1922

Milton H. Glover recently became associate investment officer of the National Bank & Trust Company, Hartford, Conn. He has charge of special analytical and research work on investment securities for the Trust Department.

Richard H. Morrissey is an accounting machine representative with the National Cash Register Company, 124 East 9th Street, Tulsa, Okla. Dick is living at 105 East 21st Street, Tulsa.

A recent letter from his secretary said that Chapin S. Newhard was slowly recovering from the eye trouble that has kept him inactive for some weeks and that he wanted his friends to know that after a vacation in Arizona he would be back in working harness.

Robert B. MacDougall is giving a course, "Writing of Non-Fiction" in Boston under the auspices of the University Extension Division, Massachusetts Department of Education.

1923

Lawrence A. McCarthy has been appointed by Attorney General John P. Hartigan '09 to act as special prosecutor for the Rhode Island State Police.

Edmund J. Bennett was named assistant trust officer of the Industrial Trust Company at the last annual meeting. He received an LL.B. degree from Northeastern University in 1932.

Walter F. Waldau and Mrs. Waldau, the former Miss L. Claire Gaertner, are living at 144 Ninth Street, Newark, N. J. Mrs. Waldau is a graduate of Montclair, N. J., State Teachers College.

Noyes C. Stickney is State Field Supervisor of Rural Education for Connecticut, with his headquarters in Essex. His mail address is Box 63, Centrebrook, Conn.

1924

Dr. Louis E. Hathaway is practising general surgery with his office at 4 Chestnut Street, Springfield, Mass. His daughter Ann was a year old last month.

Rev. Paul D. Wilbur, rector of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Bethel, Conn., since 1933, is chaplain of the Connecticut House of Representatives during the current session. He succeeds another Brown man, Rev. Frank Tishkinas '27 of the First Congregational Church of Bethel.

John R. Denham, special student with the Class, is a member of the sales staff of the Merriam Paper Company, New York City. Denham lives at 1610 Plainfield Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Clarence C. Chaffee, teacher and coach at Riverdale Country School for Boys, Riverdale-on-Hudson, N. Y., in a letter last month said that he was having a hard time to get a basketball team going at the school. His team had lost eight straight games at the time of writing, but Chaffee, being an optimist, added: "We expect to win one game yet!" He's teaching history, and likes it, and says that his young daughter, going on seven months, "already has a marvellous back hand."

Edward R. Granniss continues strictly on the job as an engineer in the engineering and inspection division of The Travelers in Hartford, Conn. His home is at 249 Garden Street, Wethersfield.

Charles S. Barton, Assistant District Attorney for Worcester County, Massachusetts, smilingly but firmly denies that he is married. He did not see the note in the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY, he said, reporting his marriage, but he was not surprised at the report because there are two Charles S. Bartons in Worcester and they are always being confused. It was the other Charles S. Barton who took a wife last October.

1925

John W. Richmond was recently appointed assistant manager of the Providence office of Hubbard Brothers & Co., members of the leading stock and commodity exchanges, at 307 Hospital Trust building.

John R. Hansbrough is a member of the Department of Pathology at Yale. He lives at 360 Prospect Street, New Haven.

Francis I. Enslin is head of the Department of English and assistant principal of the Litchfield, Conn., High School.

Russ Eason and Hal Neubauer have been recent visitors to the campus. Russ came down from Boston on business for the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, and Hal, who also has his headquarters in Boston as New England manager for the Fleischmann Distilling Sales Corporation, stopped at the Alumni Office to ask about some of the boys.

Arthur W. Packard and his family (Mrs. Packard and David and William) have changed their residence to 31 Centre Street, Rye, N. Y. Arthur is a director of The Davison Fund, Inc., recently established in New York City.

John M. Driscoll's paper, "Ten Years of Stoker Development at Hudson Avenue," which he read in December at the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, was printed in the Transactions of the society for February. Driscoll is a plant equipment engineer for the Brooklyn Edison Company.

Dr. A. W. Eckstein and Shirley Elsbree were the Class representatives at the meeting of the Class Reunions Committee on the campus last month. The Tenth Reunion is being planned for next June, and the wise man will begin to save for it now, determined to let nothing interfere with his coming back to Brown for a great week end.

Brown Alumni Monthly

Published at Brown University by the Associated Alumni

CHESLEY WORTHINGTON '23
Managing Editor

ARTHUR BRAITSCH '23
Business Manager

HENRY S. CHAFEE '09
Managing Director

ALFRED H. GURNEY '07
Secretary

GERTRUDE ALLEN McCONNELL '10
Pembroke Correspondent

Subscriptions, $2 a year. Single copies, 25 cents.
There is no issue during August or September.

Entered at the Providence Post Office as second-class matter.

Vol. XXXV MARCH, 1935 No. 8

1926

Dr. Walter S. Jones, who has been an interne at Providence Lying-In Hospital, is now resident physician at Margaret Pillsbury Hospital, Concord, N. H.

Percy F. Smith is doing advanced work in the field of the classics at Harvard Graduate School with his eye on a Ph.D. He went to Harvard from Phillips Academy, Andover, and in a recent letter he said that he was "mighty glad" that he decided to make the change. "Contacts with such men as Professors Rand, Pease and Greene are certainly stimulating." But, he added, "eight years away from concentrated study makes the mind a bit rusty, and the old man had to pound the books plenty to let all the information cleave to his weakening brain cells."

Gordon Dewart is a member of the executive committee of the Delta Kappa Epsilon Alumni Association of Boston for the current year.

Duncan Norton-Taylor reports a change of address to 15 Alexander Avenue, Madison, N. J.

Ben Nyman is secretary of the Pacific Coast Container Corporation in San Francisco, where his house is at 515 Occidental Avenue.

Robert F. Day is teaching French at the Wheeler School, Providence, and Mrs. Day and he are acting as directors of Columbine Hill, the boarding residence of the Wheeler School.

Leslie Jones's sets for the Sock and Buskin alumni production of "The Two Orphans" at the University last month were "admirably adapted to the revival" and Jones received many compliments on them. The sets, as an artist put it, were "simple in their rendering, skilfully colored, with a regard for the lighting used."

Gerald Disney was recently promoted to advertising manager of the Cleveland News. All of his Brown friends in Cleveland expect that he will come through with wider and better publicity for Brown.

1927

Russell D. Scribner, whose engagement is reported in another column, is living at the Hillcrest Hotel, Old Hickory, Tenn., where he is an officer with the du Pont Cellophane Company. "This portion of Tennessee is delightful during the winter," he wrote us at the time the January blizzard was sweeping Rhode Island. "So far I have seen one flurry of snow." He asked about Brown men in his part of the country and said that "it would be a real pleasure to sit down and talk Brown with another graduate."

Don Ball is now assistant production manager of the Columbia Broadcasting System and is living at 444 East 66th Street, New York City.

Gardner C. Hudson has begun his work as public relations man for the Kentucky Railroad Association, with his office at 1001 Louisville & Nashville Building, Louisville. So far, he admits, he likes what he has seen of the land of beautiful horses and fast women (or is it the other way around?).

Rev. Clifford Chadwick has begun his duties as rector of Trinity Church, Hamilton, O., to which he went after resigning as rector of Berkeley Memorial Chapel, Middletown, R. I. He served at Berkeley for nearly five years. His address in Hamilton is 909 Park Avenue.

Donald E. Pratt, whose marriage is announced in another column, is doing special work for the Illinois Tuberculosis Association, Inc., of which Wellington P. Shahan is executive secretary. Don was with the Indiana Tuberculosis Association until June, 1933, when he resigned to go into sales work for an Indianapolis wholesale drug firm. He returned to the public health field in September, 1934. His station is in Kankakee, Ill., at present, but he expects to be transferred this spring.

Dr. Richard E. Barnes, graduated from Brown University in 1927 and recipient of his D.D.S. from the School of Dentistry, Western Reserve University, in 1931 is specializing in orthodontia," said a press release from Western Reserve not long ago. "Until the recent death of Dr. Barnes's grandfather, Dr. Henry Barnes, three generations of dentists were practising in the same office, the son being Dr. Varney E. Barnes, also a distinguished orthodontist. Dr. Richard Barnes recently gave a clinic and paper before the Ohio State Dental Association."

Grafton H. Keyes is a research chemist with the Eastman Kodak Company, and is living at 59 Avondale Park, Rochester, N. Y.

1928

Robert F. Marschner and Mrs. Marschner are living at 7456 South Shore Drive, Chicago. Bob is a research chemist with Standard Oil Company of Indiana at Whiting, Ind.

Paul H. Hodge has opened offices for the general practice of law at 1511 Turks Head Building, Providence. He was formerly with the firm of Greenough, Lyman & Cross.

William R. Powers, 2nd, is bakery manager with the First National Stores in East Hartford, and is living at 57 Outlook Avenue, West Hartford, Conn.

John C. Hamilton, who has been on the Pacific Coast for several years, is back in his old home town of Schenectady, N. Y., where he is getting his mail at 1132 Glenwood Avenue.

1929

Wallace W. Elton, still going strong with N. W. Ayer & Son, advertising, in Philadelphia, reports his mail address to be Wallingford, Pa.

Fred Helms, whose marriage we reported in January, is with the What Cheer Printing Company, 46 Chestnut Street, Providence, and is living at 24 Newman Avenue, Manton.

Dr. Gustave Freeman is a member of the resident staff, Department of Pathology, New Haven Hospital, New Haven, Conn.

Lester F. Shaal is a research engineer with the Atlantic Refining Company at 430 Hospital Trust Building, Providence.

Noel Corbridge, who is teaching science at the Garden City, New York, High School, represented Brown at the College Night held recently in Garden City by the Parent-Teachers Association.

Russell V. Jones has been transferred to the Akron, O., office of the Travelers Insurance Company for which he is a claim attorney.

Paul L. Stannard is district office manager of the Cuyahoga County Relief Administration in Ohio, with his headquarters at 2443 Prospect Avenue, Cleveland. Paul is active in alumni affairs in the Cleveland area, having been the energetic president of the Brown Club of Cleveland during the past year.

1930

Norman H. McCabe is now a member of the training school in Washington which is used to develop agents of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, Department of Justice. When he resigned a month ago as chief deputy on the staff of the United States Marshal in Providence he received a traveling bag from his friends at the Federal Building. After he finishes training he will serve under J. Edgar Hoover.

Rev. Everett A. Sherwood is minister of the Baptist Church in Damariscotta, Me.

Jack Peterson is an insurance broker in the offices of Cramsie, Laadt & Company, general agents of the Northwestern National Life Insurance Company, at 175 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago.

Now is the time to start thinking about the Fifth Reunion of the Class in June. This reunion is really the first major one in the scale, and it should bring back to the campus for Commencement a large number of the boys. Don Flynn and other Providence workers are getting together to talk over plans and organize committees. Write Don at 94 Wyndham Avenue, Providence, and tell him you want all the news about the reunion.

1931

Sam Flora has migrated to the Pacific Coast, where he is a member of the sales staff of the Wheeling Steel Corporation, 618 Edison Building, Los Angeles. In a letter to A. H. Gurney, Alumni Secretary, last month Sam said that he had been married two and a half years, has a son (Neil Flora, 2nd) ten months old, and reads the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY with avidity. Mrs. Flora was Miss Dorothy Ross Corbett. Sam's house address is 625 N. Mansfield, Los Angeles.

Dick Breaden is doing graduate work at the University of Wisconsin with his heart set on a Ph.D. degree to enable him to begin teaching.

Eugene Field has received the William H. Hemingway Scholarship in the Columbia University School of Medicine, the Associated Press recently reported. He's in his fourth year at Columbia.

Leslie Eaton is resident engineer in the Lawrence, Mass., office of the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company.

Jim Sisk is an insurance broker with the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company. He and Mrs. Sisk are living at 1427 Cleveland Avenue, Wyomissing, Pa.

Rev. Lewis W. Williamson is pastor of the First Baptist Church, Winthrop, Mass. Herb Silverson is president of Brady & Currick, Inc., real estate and insurance, at 5 East 40th Street, New York City.

Irving Blanchard, Jr., is sales manager for the Household Paper Products, 1203 Industrial Trust Building, Providence.

Jim Laadt, in a recent letter to Coach Leo Barry, said that he was following the Brown swimming team with interest and that he was also getting along well as an insurance broker with the firm of Cramsie, Laadt & Co., general agents, 175 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago. He and Frank White '33 had a get together not long ago while Frank was in Chicago for an Alemitte convention.

1932

E. B. Delabarre, Jr., second year student at the Harvard Graduate School, has been appointed assistant in psychology at Harvard for the current semester.

Sherburn Edgerly is one of the Horace Dennett Scholars at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia, this year.

Byron O. Waterman has become assistant pastor of the First Calvary Baptist Church, Lawrence, Mass. He preached his first sermon there Sunday evening, Feb. 10. Arrangement will soon be made, we are told, for his ordination in the Merrimack Valley Association of Baptist Churches.

George W. Jensen sets himself down as assistant manager with the Western Union Telegraph Company at 120 Broadway, New York City, but he still claims Newport, R. I., as his home town.

1933

Art King is back in his home city of Taunton, Mass., doing part time recreation work.

Bob Bentley, after spending several months as a Government worker in Washington, where he served as secretary of the Brown Club of Washington, has returned to Chicago as aide to the Regional Director, NRA. "Sorry to leave Washington, but glad to get home," he wrote last month. He's living at 2855 Sheridan Place, Evanston, Ill.

Roger Elton is doing credit work for the Manufacturers' Trust Company, 130 Fifth Avenue, New York City, and commuting from and to his home in Sea Cliff, N. Y., daily.

Art Kroeger is at the Harvard School of Business Administration and reports that he does his studying at Hamilton C-35, Soldiers Field, Boston, Mass.

Ned Parish is working for the United Air Lines in Cleveland, O. He had an orchestra under his wing last fall, but gave it up to tackle a regular job.

John R. Simpson is back again in his home city of Scranton, Pa., after a brief sojourn in Rochester, N. Y., and is living at 835 Taylor Avenue.

1934

Bill Brines and his orchestra seem to be making a big hit in and around New Brunswick, N. J., where Bill went to high school and where his father is a member of the Faculty of Rutgers University.

Joe Buonanno, athletic director at Masanutton Academy down in Virginia, recently organized a boxing team at the Academy. He will try to develop a few performers good enough to enter the South Atlantic interscholastic tournament this month.

Jim Mackintosh is doing graduate work at Oberlin in an effort, he writes, "to snag down a master's degree before too many seasons pass." He is writing a thesis which discusses the rise of fraternities in American colleges, and one of his source books is Bronson's "History of Brown University."

* * *

ENGAGEMENTS

MISS CONSTANCE VOSE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Vose of Newton Center, Mass., to John C. Storer '17 of Newton, Mass.

Miss Ruth Leighton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis C. Leighton of Providence, to John B. Kilton '25, also of Providence.

Miss Verner Kline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verner M. Kline of Louisville, Ky., to Russell D. Scribner '27 of Old Hickory, Tenn. Miss Kline is a graduate of Goucher College.

Miss Helen Riecks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Riecks of Monroe, O., to Robert S. Jones '30n of Toledo, O. Miss Riecks is a graduate of Greenbrier College.

Miss Amy Bowie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Bowie of New Bedford, Mass., to Archibald M. Peckham, Jr., '31n, of Boston and New Bedford.

Miss Lisette Micoletau, daughter of Mrs. Henri Micoletau of Providence, to Charles C. Tillinghast, Jr., '32 of New York City. Miss Micoletau's father was the late Professor Micoletau, member of the Brown French faculty at the time of his death in the War.

Miss Jean C. Speller, daughter of Mrs. Frank Newman Speller of Springfield, Mass., to Edward L. Brown '33, of New York City.

Miss Carolyn White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn I. White of West Medford, Mass., to J. Gardner Maddock '33, of Swampscott, Mass. Miss White is a graduate of Skidmore.

Miss Jeanne Birdsall Huntoon, daughter of Mrs. Harrison B. Huntoon of Providence to Allan K. De Witt '34 of Middletown, N. Y.

Miss Beulah Hyman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Hyman of New York City, to Henry I. Perskin '34n, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

* * *

WEDDINGS

1926, Honorary—Dr. Roy Chapman Andrews and Mrs. Wilhelmina Anderson Christmas were married in New York City, Feb. 22, 1935. They are spending their honeymoon in California. On their return they will live in New York, where Dr. Andrews is director of the American Museum of Natural History.

1901—Dr. Harvey N. Davis, president of Stevens Institute of Technology, and Miss Helen Clarkson Miller, were married in New York City, Feb. 8, 1935. After a honeymoon in Europe they will live at Hoxie House on the Stevens campus.

1902—Preston H. Porcheron and Miss Laura Fonderville, daughter of Mrs. August John Fonderville, were married in New York City, Nov. 17, 1934. They are at home at 4 Chestnut Street, Albany, N. Y.

1920—Dr. S. Albert Fox and Miss Dorothea Doctors, daughter of Mrs. J. D. Greenberg of New Bedford, Mass., were married in New York City, Dec. 30, 1934. Dr. Fox is associated with the Bellevue Hospital medical staff.

1927—Donald S. Pratt and Miss Mary

Elizabeth Symms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Symms, were married in Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 13, 1934. Wellington P. Shahan '27 was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Pratt are at home at 686 South Harrison Avenue, Kankakee, Ill.

1929—Edward Ellis Jones and Miss Elsa von Steinwehr, daughter of Mrs. Frederick C. von Steinwehr, were married in Cincinnati, O., Jan. 26, 1935. Howard W. Jones '23, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Jones are living on Grandin Lane, Cincinnati.

1931—Homer W. Hervey, Jr., and Miss Elizabeth Swift Potter, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lester F. Potter, were married in New Bedford, Mass., Jan. 27, 1935. They are at home at 35 Highland Avenue, Newtonville, Mass.

1931—Rev. Lewis W. Williamson and Miss Miriam Huss of Newton Centre, Mass., were married in Winthrop, Mass., Jan. 7, 1935. They are living in Winthrop.

1931—John James Green and Miss Caryl Elizabeth King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William King, were married in St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 18, 1935. Thomas Bond, Jr., '32, Rodney Meyer '30, and William R. Kinnaird '31 were ushers. They are at home at 5385 Waterman Avenue, St. Louis.

1931—Joseph M. Baruch and Miss Constance Schild, daughter of Mrs. Florence Schild, were married in New York City, Jan. 23, 1935. They are now living in New Haven, Conn.

1931—Foster R. Sheldon and Miss Mildred H. Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Schmidt, were married in Kingston, R. I., Oct. 12, 1934. They are at home at 74 North Road, Peace Dale, R. I.

1934—Irving S. Pascal and Miss Mary Elizabeth Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Nelson, were married in Elizabeth, N. J., Feb. 1, 1935. Richard K. Hapgood '34 was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Pascal are at home at 136 Delavan Avenue, Newark, N. J.

* * *

BIRTHS

FACULTY—To Professor and Mrs. Laurence S. Foster, a son, Laurence Standley Foster, Jr., Jan. 10, 1935.

1914—To Dr. and Mrs. George E. Ronne of Providence, a son, George Emil Ronne, Jr., Feb. 2, 1935.

1919—To Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Hurd of Providence, a daughter, Jean Isabelle, Jan. 17, 1935.

1920—To Mr. and Mrs. Elmer G. Armstrong of Elizabeth, N. J., a daughter, Patricia Macgregor, Feb. 8, 1935.

1921—To Mr. and Mrs. Morris L. Cowen of Providence, a son, Donald Wayne, Feb. 7, 1935.

1923—To Mr. and Mrs. T. Walton Doyle of East Providence, a daughter, Nancy Elizabeth, Feb. 1, 1935.

1925—To Mr. and Mrs. Theodore K. Ferry of Radburn, N. J., a daughter, Sarah Stanton, Feb. 8, 1935.

1927—To Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Guild of New York City, a daughter, Cynthia Margaret, Feb. 1, 1935.

1931—To Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs Macdaniel of San Antonio, Tex., a son, Sherman Paine, Nov. 10, 1934. Mrs. Macdaniel was Virginia Paine, Pembroke '30.

1932—To Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth V. Gordon of Providence, a daughter, Joan Arlene, Jan. 23, 1935.

Those We Mourn

1914, Hon.

LYON GARDINER TYLER, President Emeritus of William and Mary College, died at Holdercroft, Va., on Feb. 12, 1935. The son of John Tyler, tenth President of the United States, he had devoted his life to education and served as President of William and Mary, America's senior college, for 31 years. Upon his retirement in 1919 he turned to historical research and writing. His LL.D. from Brown in 1914 was one of several honorary awards he received.

* * *

1934, Hon.

DR. CHARLES EVANS affectionately recalled as the distinguished bibliographer who broke tradition at the last Brown Commencement, died at his home in Chicago on Feb. 8, 1935. He left a monument in the form of a bibliography of all the books, pamphlets, periodicals, and publications printed in the United States from 1639 to the end of the 18th century, and the final volume of the 13 would have brought his colossal undertaking to completion. He had devoted 50 of his 84 years to the task, and librarians throughout the world who esteemed him are happy to hear that his project was left in such condition that it can be completed posthumously. The page on which a paralytic stroke made him drop his pen a day before his death will not be left blank.

Brunonians recall that when he received his doctorate last June, he inquired if he might interrupt proceedings to respond to the honor done him. He acknowledged it in a graceful, good-humored bit of poetry. J. Christian Bay, writing in the American Library Association Bulletin, told of the delight that degree had given the venerable librarian, especially since his "American Bibliography" had of necessity made him a solitary worker without too many direct contacts with the world. That degree was the major recognition of his service to letters.

* * *

1874

HAROLD PEARCE WATERMAN died in Providence, Jan. 20, 1934. He was born in Providence, Sept. 1, 1853, the son of Stephen and Harriet (Bullock) Waterman, and had always been a resident of the city except for a few years that he spent as a young man in New York City. In early life he also traveled considerably.

He prepared at the University Grammar School and was a promising student at Brown being elected to Phi Beta Kappa. His fraternity was Psi Upsilon. His brother, Stephen Waterman '86, of Washington, D. C., is his only survivor.

* * *

1881

THE Alumni Office has confirmed the report of the death of George Fremont Bean in Woburn, Mass., Dec. 17, 1934, after a long illness. He was an Alumni Trustee of the University, 1920-1932, a former president of the Brown Club of Boston, a member of the executive committee for the Brown War Emergency Fund, 1918, the first chairman of the old Advisory Board of the Associated Alumni and the first chairman of the Board of Trustees, Brown Loyalty Fund, now the Brown Alumni Fund. He also had a part in organizing the Brown University Athletic Council.

He held the degrees of A.B. and A.M. from Brown, and LL.B. from Boston University. He was a former Mayor of Woburn and had been prominent in city and state politics. Surviving are his widow, who was Mrs. Ada Barney, a son Stephen S. Bean '14, and a daughter, Mrs. Esther B. Bean. His fraternity was Delta Upsilon. He was also a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

* * *

1885

ARTHUR PRESTON SUMNER, Associate Justice of the Rhode Island Superior Court, "father" of the Chapter of Beta Theta Pi at Brown, and always active and helpful as secretary of the Class of 1885, died in Providence, Jan. 21, 1935, after an illness of two weeks. He had been in semi-retirement for several years, but was available for duty on the bench when his service was needed.

Born in Providence, April 8, 1862, the son of Ossian and Katharine A. (Sayles) Sumner, he prepared in the Classical Department, Providence High School, and after graduation from Brown entered the law offices of Edwin Metcalf '42 and Walter F. Angell '80 to study law. He became a member of the Rhode Island bar in 1888.

In 1912, after having served as register in bankruptcy and a standing master in chancery he entered public life as a member of the Rhode Island House of Representatives from the old Second District of Providence. He served on the judiciary committee, of which he became chairman, and in 1919 won election as Speaker of the House. He presided in the House until Feb. 20, 1920, when he was elected to the Superior Court. As Speaker he was a disciplinarian, holding both Republicans and Democrats strictly to the rules, and always keeping order and decorum.

As an associate justice of the Superior Court he presided over court trials in all parts of the State. In June, 1929, he suffered a nervous breakdown, but gradually recovered and was able to work for short periods. He also maintained his interest in Beta Theta Pi, of which he had been treasurer and counselor, in the Sons of the American Revolution, which he served as President General of the national society in 1923, and in the A.E. Club and the Rhode Island Bar Association. He also belonged to the University Club, where he took regular part in the deliberations of the famous big table.

Judge Sumner was married Oct. 19, 1918, to Sarah Elizabeth Potter of Providence, who survives, with two nephews Professor Albert E. Rand of the Brown Faculty and Sumner G. Rand of Orlando, Fla.

DR. DANIEL HUNT FULLER, one of the country's leading psychiatrists, died in Philadelphia, Feb. 1, 1935. Funeral services were held at the Central Congregational Church, Providence, on Feb. 4.

Dr. Fuller was born in Providence, Aug. 3, 1864, the son of Leonard F. and Mary I. (Hunt) Fuller. He came to Brown from the Providence High School, won his A.B., with his Class, his A.M. in 1889 and his M.D. at Harvard in 1891. He first went on duty at the McLean Hospital, Somerville, Mass. and then at the Boston City Hospital. For twelve years he was resident physician at the Adams Nervine Hospital, Jamaica Plain, Mass., resigning in 1909 to become assistant to the executive officer, Massachusetts State Board of Insanity, Boston.

In 1914 he went to Philadelphia as medical director of the department for men, Pennsylvania Hospital. He was also chief of the clinic for mental and nervous diseases in the hospital's out-patient department. He had a national reputation for his work in the field of psychiatry.

He was a member of the College of Physicians of Philadelphia, the American Psychiatric Society, in which he was chairman of the committee on nursing, the American Medical Association, the Philadelphia Psychiatric Society, County Medical Society and Neurological Society, the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, Phi Beta Kappa and Delta Upsilon. He was a former secretary of the Boston Society of Neurology and Psychiatry and a former president of the Brown Club of Philadelphia.

Dr. Fuller was married Nov. 17, 1915, to Jennie Mary Daniels Wood, who survives, with four nephews and nieces.

* * *

1887

WALTER ESMOND KEACH, former State Senator from Cumberland and president of the Town Council, died at his home in Valley Falls, R. I., Jan. 30, 1935, after a long illness. He had been sick for the past ten years and shut in during a large part of that time.

He was born in Thompson, Conn., Sept. 10, 1864, the son of John and Ellen M. (Brown) Keach. He prepared for Brown at Providence High School and after graduation went into the business of manufacturing underwear with the late Moses M. Brown. In 1906 he formed the Hesse Manufacturing Company and served as manager and treasurer of the concern until his breakdown in health in 1925 forced him to give up.

In 1907 he was the leader in Cumberland in organizing the Citizens' Union, a non-political group which pledged itself to remove politics from town management. The ticket promoted by the Union won for two years in succession, and during the period Keach was president of the Town Council. Some years later he was a member of the Council.

He was elected to the Rhode Island State Senate in 1914, and in 1918. He was Past Master of Union Lodge of Masons, Pawtucket; Pawtucket Royal Arch Chapter; Pawtucket Council; Holy Sepulchre Commandery, Knights Templar; Palestine Shrine, and the 32nd degree, Scottish Rite. He was also a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon. He was married Sept. 15, 1888, to

1885

1935

FIFTY YEARS OF PROGRESS

IN 1885, fifty years ago, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company was formed.

There were few telephones then and service was slow, uncertain and limited to separate communities. In that year the largest number of telephones in any one city was 8400, in New York.

New York now has 1,500,000, Chicago 800,000, Philadelphia 350,000.

From your own Bell telephone you may talk with any one of 17,000,000 other telephones in this country and most of those in foreign lands. Today, 93% of all the world's telephones are within reach of the Bell telephone in your home or office.

This year marks also the Twentieth Anniversary of the opening of the first transcontinental line, from New York to San Francisco, and the Eighth Anniversary of the opening of transatlantic service.

The work of improving Bell telephone communication is never ended . . . it goes on and on toward a constantly higher standard. Further improvements as important as those of the past half-century will come through Bell System research, manufacturing and unified operation.

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

To make your telephone service dependable, 94 per cent of the Bell System's 80,000,000 miles of wire is now in storm-resisting, lead-covered cable. Sixty-five per cent of it is buried beneath the ground.

Miss Alice R. Doane of Harwichport, Mass., who survives, with a son, Esmond D. Keach, and a granddaughter.

* * *
1888

CLARENCE GRANT HAMILTON, Professor Emeritus of Music at Wellesley College, where his general course in the history of music has become a Wellesley tradition, died at his home in Wellesley, Feb. 14, 1935, after a short illness.

"One of his most marked characteristics as a teacher," wrote a Wellesley graduate, "was a faculty for discovering promptly some particular need of his students, perhaps as yet unrealized by themselves, and of leading them in a direct and telling manner to its satisfaction."

PRESCRIPTIONS

...exactly as written

When a doctor's prescription comes to us for compounding we consider it as a means toward someone's good health. Accordingly we practice utmost accuracy in compounding, using the finest quality ingredients the world affords.

Bring YOUR prescriptions here.

BLANDING'S

160 Westminster St. 6 Wayland Square

Commercial Banking Trust Department

Capital $500,000

Surplus and
Undivided Profits (over) . . . $950,000

BLACKSTONE CANAL NATIONAL BANK

Established 1831

20 MARKET SQUARE
PROVIDENCE, R. I.

He was brilliant as a teacher, able as an administrator, and admired as a citizen of Wellesley town, to which he contributed much of its musical life. He was an honorary member of the class of 1908 at Wellesley and of Alpha Kappa Chi, which looked to him for musical settings for its dramatic productions. His "Outlines of Musical History," first published in 1908, is the foremost book of its kind.

Clarence Grant Hamilton was born in Providence, June 9, 1865, the son of John A. and Mary E. (Prentice) Hamilton. He prepared at Classical High School, and after graduation from Brown became a teacher in Swain's School for a year. Then he took up the intensive study of music here and abroad with Edward Hoffman, Hamilton C. MacDougall, Arthur Foote, George W. Chadwick, Edward Dannreuther and Tobias Matthay. He taught music in Providence from 1889 to 1904, in which year he became Associate Professor of Music at Wellesley.

During his years at Wellesley he also conducted summer courses in music at Boston University, Columbia University and Boothbay Harbor, Me. He gave invaluable assistance to the Wellesley Pierian, and for 15 years was organist and choir director of the Wellesley Congregational Church. He composed many part songs, piano selections and anthems. Besides "Outlines of Music History," he wrote "Piano Teaching," "Sound and Its Relation to Music," "Piano Music," "Epochs in Musical Progress," "What Every Piano Pupil Should Know," and other books. He was editor of the Music Students Piano Course and a contributor to musical magazines, including The Etude, of which he was a departmental editor.

He was married Nov. 30, 1893, to Miss Ada Alice Anthony, who survives, with a son, Dr. Wallace F. Hamilton. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, having been elected in his Junior year at Brown, and Delta Upsilon. He received his A.M. from Brown upon examination in 1900.

* * *

1899

NATHANIEL TRULL EWER, chemist and discoverer of one of the well-known patented ingredients used in fire extinguishing fluids, died at his home in Swarthmore, Pa. Jan. 28, 1935. He had been associated with the American Dyewood Company of Chester, Pa., for 33 years.

Born in Reading, Mass., in 1878, the son of James K. and Emma H. Ewer, he prepared at the University Grammar School and received the Ph.B. degree at Brown, with chemistry as his major subject. When he first went to work for the American Dyewood Company he was at the plant in East Boston. Then he transferred to Chester and settled in Swarthmore. He and his family were summer residents of Spray Beach, near Beach Haven, N. J.

He was married Nov. 23, 1904, to Miss Mabelle S. Swint, sister of Wendell R. Swint '11. Mrs. Ewer survives, with his mother, Mrs. Emma Ewer of Winchester, Mass., two sons, Kendall and Nathaniel T. Ewer, Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Edmund A. Pratt of Bryn Mawr, Pa. His fraternity was Phi Delta Theta. While he was working in East Boston he took special courses at the Lowell Textile School.

1903

DR. S. NEWELL SMITH, JR., well known as an obstetrician, died at his home in Providence, Jan. 27, 1935, after an attack of pleural pneumonia. He had practised in Providence since 1908.

He was born in Providence, March 19, 1881, the son of Samuel Newell and Emma R. (Greene) Smith. He was a student at Brown for two years, leaving in June, 1901, to enroll in Cornell Medical School, New York City. Receiving his M.D. from Cornell in 1905, he became an interne at Rhode Island Hospital, and two years later transferred to the Providence Lying-In Hospital as he had decided to specialize in obstetrics.

In 1908 he commenced the general practice of medicine and in the course of time concentrated on obstetrical work. In his specialty he won local distinction. He was a member of the American Medical Association, the Rhode Island and Providence Medical Societies, the Central Congregational Church, the Sons of the American Revolution, and Delta Kappa Epsilon. He was attending physician at the Home for Aged Colored Women.

Dr. Smith was married June 1, 1903, to Miss Celia S. Peckham '03, Pembroke, who survives, with two daughters, Mrs. George Paul Slade and Miss Ruth Greene Smith. Also surviving are his father and two grandchildren.

* * *

1925

ALBERT EDWARD BARNES died of pneumonia in Philadelphia, Feb. 3, 1935. Three years ago he suffered an attack of blood poisoning which resulted in the amputation of a leg. He had fully recovered from this major operation and was working when stricken with pneumonia.

He was born in Greenville, R. I., May 19, 1902, the son of Scott O. and Allie Belle (Mowry) Barnes. He prepared at Technical High School, Providence, won his Sc.B. at Brown in engineering and became an associate member of the Society of the Sigma Xi. "Al is one of those men who can both make and keep friends within his own circle," the Liber Brunensis of 1925 said of him. "Unfortunately, his retiring nature has kept this circle all too small."

Immediately after graduation he joined the Turner Construction Company and remained with it until his last illness. At the time of his death he was the company's purchasing agent, with his headquarters in Philadelphia. His wife, who was Miss Eva May John, survives, with two sons, David and Walter S. Barnes. Also surviving are his parents and a brother, Robert Barnes, of Greenville. Another brother, Walter Scott Barnes '31, died in Smithfield, March 15, 1931, in an airplane crash.

* * *

1925

ANDREW JOSEPH CRAWLEY, former principal of the Cumberland, R. I., High School, died in Providence, Feb. 13, 1935, after an illness of several months.

He resigned last June from the Cumberland High School to accept a teaching position in the Central Falls High School, but sickness prevented him from taking up his new work.

Crawley was born in Central Falls, July 24, 1899, the son of John J. and Bridget A. (Nolan) Crawley. He entered Brown from La Salle Academy, and as an undergraduate was never in the limelight. He became a teacher in the Cumberland schools shortly after graduation and was principal of the high school for five years. In the summer he was a playground supervisor in Central Falls. During the past three summers he had been director of the playground system.

He was married April 15, 1926, to Miss Anna Frances Toher, who died March 12, 1927. His second wife, who was Miss Helen Smith, survives, together with six brothers of Central Falls and Saylesville.

* * *

Pembroke Chronicle

Alumnae Education Day

THE Alumnae Association of Brown University will sponsor its first Alumnae Education Day on Saturday, March 23rd. The subject of the conference will be "United States in World Affairs." Dr. G. E. Bigge will speak on "Lessons from European Experiment with Social Security," Prof. Leland M. Goodrich will lecture on "American Interest in European Affairs," and Prof. J. H. Shoemaker will present "American Problems in the Far East."

Two lectures will be given in the afternoon and one in the evening. Each of the lectures will be followed by a discussion period. The price for the course is $1.00. Supper will be served in the cafeteria to those who send reservations in advance to the Alumnae Office. Tickets for the supper will be 75c.

* * *

A Regional Scholarship Plan

THE plan for regional scholarships as presented by the Scholarship Committee has been approved by the members of the Alumnae Council and will be brought before the Alumnae Association in June for adoption.

The Council recommends:

1. That the Alumnae Association of Brown University inaugurate a system of regional scholarships.

2. That the alumnae within the established regions shall raise, within their respective areas, a sum equal to not less than one-half the cost of one year's tuition, the sum raised to be duplicated, in each case, by Pembroke College; the total sum to be expended by the College for each individual not to exceed one-half the yearly cost of both tuition and board. The committee considers it desirable that the usual amount to be raised by a region shall be at least $200.00, as a scholarship less than a total of $400.00 will not prove attractive in competition with the scholarship offerings of other colleges.

3. That the alumnae of the established regions shall be empowered to choose, through local scholarship committees, the girls, within their respective regions, who are to be the recipients of the regional scholarships.

4. That the organization and promotion of regional groups for the purpose of raising scholarship money and choosing local scholarship girls be undertaken by the Alumnae Clubs now in existence, with the understanding that such clubs will endeavor to enlist the co-operation of any subsequently organized clubs and of all individual alumnae residing within the region.

5. That the regional divisions be determined, from time to time, by the geographical distribution and the activity of the alumnae, the original regions to be five in number, namely,—

1. Massachusetts and northern New England
2. Rhode Island
3. Connecticut, New York, and New Jersey
4. Philadelphia and the South
5. The Middle and Far West—and any subsequent change in regional lines to be made by agreement between the Alumnae Association and the Alumnae Clubs involved in the change.

6. That the Scholarship Committee be empowered, if the system of regional scholarships be adopted, to expedite the inauguration of the system through the appointment of chairmen of the various regions, whose duty it will be to complete the initial organization of their respective areas for the purpose of raising regional scholarship funds, all subsequent organization and control to be left to the respective regional groups.

7. That if, and when, any regional scholarships become operative, they shall replace the Alumnae Clubs Scholarship contributions of their respective regions.

The Heritage of Tools

Without tools Man is helpless. The progress of civilization is measured by the invention of tools.

Today we claim tools as our heritage. Capital is a valuable tool, always difficult to obtain. It may be borrowed, but the only way that it can be created is by saving.

If you wish to build a home, you can probably borrow a large portion of the necessary capital by means of a first mortgage on the new house. This can be repaid gradually over a period of about 11½ to 16½ years . . . by systematic saving.

OLD COLONY
CO-OPERATIVE BANK
 58 WEYBOSSET ST., PROVIDENCE
 WASHINGTON - WEST WARWICK - GREYSTONE - PAWTUCKET
 MEMBER, FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK SYSTEM

Systematic Saving Spells Success

BROWN DIRECTORY

ARTHUR H. BLANCHARD, C. E. '99
CONSULTING ENGINEER

Highway Traffic Control
Highway Transport
Airport Runways and Landing Fields
Highway Engineering
Contract and Patent Lawsuits
Box C. Edgewood Station, Providence

PERRY, SAUNDERS & CHENEY
Counsellors at Law
185 Devonshire Street, Boston, Mass.
JOSEPH EARLE PERRY, WILLIAMS
ALBERT L SAUNDERS, BROWN, '1902
EDWIN A CHENEY, Boston Uni., 1917

HARRIS and GIFFORD
Certified Public Accountants
at
840 HOSPITAL TRUST BUILDING
PROVIDENCE, R. I.
GAspee 7272

Audits -- Systems Business Research
Taxes and Surveys

Winship
Teachers' Agency

SEND FOR BLANK
6 BEACON STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

Alvin F. Pease

Brown Graduate, A. B. & A. M.

Alumnae of Brown

BY GERTRUDE ALLEN McCONNELL '10
Executive Secretary of the Alumnae Association

ALUMNAE CLUBS

THE Brown Alumnae Club of Boston celebrated its 25th anniversary on January 12, 1935, at a luncheon meeting at the Y.W.C.A. Fifty-seven loyal alumnae, some of whom were the founders of the Club, assembled to make this a meeting that will long be remembered. Marian Sweet '16 presided and introduced the speakers and guests—President Barbour, Dean Morriss, Alice Manchester Chase '05, President of the Alumnae Association, and Jessie Monroe Williams '12. The spirit of enthusiasm and loyalty of the largest number of alumnae ever gathered together in Boston gave assurance of their support in the coming years. At the meeting on March 2nd movies of the college were shown to members and prospective students.

The Brown Alumnae Club of Providence held a most successful bridge for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund on March 4th in Alumnae Hall. On March 29th the members will be the guests of Irma Gyllenberg Cull '09, president of the Club, at her home on Blackstone Boulevard. The guest speaker will be Dorothy Patton Lockwood '23.

The Brown Alumnae Club of Worcester has been having interesting meetings on the first Saturday in each month. In February they were entertained at the home of the president, Anna L. Metcalf '97; on March 30th they will hold a scholarship bridge at Town House, and on April 6th they will entertain the undergraduates and prospective students at a meeting at Town House. Miss Eva A. Mooar will be the speaker and will show motion pictures of the college.

The Brown Alumnae Club of New York had President Barbour as their guest on February 23rd. Alice Manchester Chase, President of the Alumnae Association, and Gertrude Allen McConnell, Executive Secretary, will be the guests of the Club on Monday, April 1st.

The Brown Alumnae Club of Eastern Pennsylvania was entertained at luncheon at the home of Claudia Wilson Ridington in Conshohocken on February 23rd. Dean Morriss was the guest of honor.

The Brown Alumnae Club of Washington will be the guests of Marie Ettl Bennett at a meeting at her home on April 3rd. Mrs. Chase and Mrs. McConnell will bring news and views of the college.

The Brown Alumnae Club of Cleveland held its February meeting at the College Club, where the members met for dinner. The Club entertained President Barbour at luncheon on Feb. 24th at the Chamber of Commerce. Anne Crawford Jonah '27 was elected corresponding secretary and Elizabeth Morse Taggart '26 was elected a member of the Executive Committee.

* * *

A Portrait of Dr. Andrews

THE Alumnae Association of Brown University and the Rhode Island Society for the Collegiate Education of Women have commissioned Mr. Ernest L. Ipsen, nationally known artist, to paint a portrait of the late Dr. E. Benjamin Andrews, founder of our College. Mr. Ipsen is a member of the National Academy and other art organizations, and his portraits of statesmen, authors, educators, artists, and executives, both here and abroad, have won him many prizes. The portrait is to hang in Alumnae Hall and it is expected that it will be presented at special exercises on Alumnae Day.

* * *

Class Notes

1897—Mabel L. Potter and Dr. Alice B. Eliot '00 are spending a month in Florida.

1902—Ella McCaffrey Winn is living at the Hotel Sorrento, Terry and Madison Streets, Seattle, Wash. Her husband is pastor of the University Unitarian Church.

1905—Alice Tillinghast Bartlett received her Master's degree in education from Temple University in February.

1907—Louise Morgan is living at 10 Old Square, Lincoln's Inn, W. C. 2, London. She has a 99½ years lease on the property and we hope she lives to enjoy all of them. She finds her newspaper work fascinating. She is connected with the News Chronicle, which has a daily circulation of nearly two millions.

1913—Jessica Barr is at The Parkside, 18 Gramercy Park South, New York City.

1914—Dr. Winona M. Perry, Professor of Educational Psychology at the University of Nebraska, has been elected to membership in the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

1914—Marjorie Mallory Riley's new address is 31 Brookside Ave., Albany, N. Y.

1915—Almira Coffin is head of the Mathematics Department in Rogers High School, Newport.

1915—Dr. Alma M. Waterman is in the Office of Forest Pathology instead of the Botany Department of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, as we reported last time. The building in which she works belongs to Yale but there is no connection between her office and the University. Her

Advertisers Engraving Company

126 DORRANCE ST. PROVIDENCE, R. I.

TELEPHONE GASPEE 7094

"Picturize your Product"

address is Marsh Hall, 360 Prospect St., New Haven.

1916—Elizabeth Little Brown and family have concluded a delightful Mediterranean cruise and are now enjoying Italy.

1916—Wilhelmina Bennett Cox has moved to 71 Cass Ave., Woonsocket. Her husband has been made superintendent of the Woonsocket Hospital.

1917—Margaret Carr has been made Dean of Girls in Rogers High School, Newport. She has taught in the school since 1919. In addition to her work at Brown, Miss Carr has studied at Harvard, University of Michigan, and the University of Vermont.

1918—Stella Lafrance is teaching in the Williams Memorial Institute in New London.

1918—Dr. Hannah G. Roach, Professor of History at Connecticut College for Women, has been made secretary-treasurer of the new Delta Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

1921—Sarah Hill D'Atri, chairman of the Women's Section of the R. I. Alpha of Phi Beta Kappa, represented that organization at the founding of the Delta Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa at Connecticut College last month.

1923—Margaret E. Cheetham is living at 318 Lexington Ave., New York City.

1925—Amy Hull Hodge is living at 210 Central Ave., Orange, N. J.

1925—Eleanor Hanson Vaughan is enjoying her new home on Onida Lane, Bethesda, Maryland.

1926—Dorothy Russell has moved to 16 Birch St., Marblehead, Mass. She is still teaching in the Homeopathic Hospital in Providence.

1926—Margaret Phelan is head of the Latin Department in Rogers High School, Newport.

1927—Alverda Sammis Beck is living at 2 East Park Row, Clinton, New York.

1927—Helen Ridgway is now located at 42-37 Union St., Flushing, N. Y.

1928—Ethel McKechnie Bliss is living at 64 Colburn St., North Attleboro.

1929—Marian Hudson Beckerhoff is living at 74 West 68th St., New York City.

1929—Elizabeth M. Knight is doing social work at the State Hospital at Howard.

1929—Doris Seagrave has moved from Attleboro to 26 Sarah St., Providence.

1930—Margaret E. Drewett is in the library at Swarthmore. Her address is 128 Rogers Ave., Swarthmore, Penn.

1931—Elizabeth Considine is teaching science at the Wheeler School. She is living with her family at 79 Forest Street instead of at the school, as she has done since graduation.

1931—Eleanor Smith is doing social work in Portsmouth, N. H., and is living at 241 Middle Street.

1931—Mary O'Meara Wattendorf has moved to 157 Fuller St., West Newton, Mass.

1932—Alice Harson received the M.E. degree from Boston Teachers College in June and is now working for the Department of Public Aid in Providence.

1932—Marion L. White is living at 420 West 159th Street, New York City.

1933—Jean Bauer is winning laurels in the South. Among her trophies is the Grace Doherty cup, which she won at the third annual Miami-Biltmore women's golf championship in Miami, Florida.

1934—Annis Bayley is working for General Motors. She has moved to 783 Yorke Ave., Pawtucket.

1934—Mary Ettlign is working for the Director of Public Aid. She is living at 102 Bowen St., Providence.

1934—Evangeline Francis is with the Providence Governmental Research Bureau and likes the work immensely. She is also leading a current events discussion group at the Y.W.C.A. and is secretary of the Providence League of Women Voters.

1934—Harriet Levy has moved to 425 Riverside Drive. She is working in the United States Customs House and is taking a course in accounting.

* * *

Jean Wright Jonah '29

JEAN WRIGHT JONAH, wife of Harold F. S. Jonah, died in Lafayette, Indiana, on February 5, 1935, leaving a two weeks' old son, David. Mrs. Jonah was the daughter of George F. Wright of East Greenwich and the late Esther Slater Rhodes Wright. After graduating from college, Mrs. Jonah taught for four years in the Warwick High School in Apponaug. On July 3, 1933, she was married to Mr. Jonah, who is a graduate of Mt. Allison and of Brown, and who is a member of the mathematics department at Purdue University. David Woodley Jonah was born on January 22, 1935. A week later Mrs. Jonah contracted scarlet fever, which proved fatal. Mrs. Jonah's sister, Elizabeth, graduated from Brown in 1933. The sincere sympathy of the alumnae is extended to the entire family.

* * *

Engagement

1931—Elizabeth L. Considine is engaged to William Russell Walker, University of Ohio '30.

Weddings

1927—Henrietta Johnston is married to Albert Field and is living at 759 Sheridan Ave., Columbus, Ohio.

1929—Josephine C. Gable was married to John Burton Stevens in January. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens are living at 430 West 24th Street, New York City.

1931—Isabel E. Morton was married to Dexter Snow Luther, Jr., R. I. State College, on February 9, 1935. Mr. and Mrs. Luther are living at 32 Garden St., Pawtucket.

1932—Marian I. Kramer was married to Philip C. Goldberg on November 28, 1934, at the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York. Before her marriage Mrs. Goldberg was a case worker with the Lincoln House Association in Waterbury. Mr. and Mrs. Goldberg are living at 868 Madison St., Fall River, Mass.

1934—Bertha R. Marcus was married to Charles B. Sperber, B. U. Law '29 on January 29, 1935. Mr. and Mrs. Sperber will make their home in Boston.

Births

1922—To Mr. and Mrs. John M. Gronningen (Irene Nightingale), a daughter, Irene Nightingale, on December 29, 1934. Mr. and Mrs. Gronningen are living at 180 Vauxhall St., New London, Conn.

1922—To Mr. and Mrs. E. Stuart Neville (Esther Spear), a daughter, Marjorie Ann, on November 19, 1934.

1927—To Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Armand Gaucher (Sadiean Gladding), a son, Adrian A., Jr., on December 4, 1934, in New Bedford, Mass.

1929—To Mr. Harold F. S. Jonah and the late Mrs. Jonah (Jean Wright), a son, David Woodley, on January 22, 1935, in Lafayette, Indiana.

1930—To Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs Macdaniel (Virginia Paine), a son, Sherman Paine, on November 10, 1934, in San Antonio, Texas.

Providence National Bank

ESTABLISHED 1791

CAPITAL.....$1,500,000
SURPLUS.....$2,000,000

Main Office—100 Westmooster Street
Branch—Corcor Empire and Washington Sts.

OFFICERS

Moses J. Barber, Chairman of the Board
Thomas L. Pierce, President
Earl G. Batty, Vice President and Cashier
George A. Freeman, Assistant Cashier
Henry H. Eddy, Assistant Cashier

Charles M. Smith, III, Trust Officer
T. I. Hare Powel, Investment Counsel

Charles L. Eddy, Assistant Cashier
Manager, Empire Street Branch

Directors

Charles H. Newell	A. Livingstoo Kelley
William Gammell, Jr.	Willsoo G. Wieg
Moses J. Barber	John Nicholas Brown
Paul C. DeWolf	Thomas L. Pierce
Fraok E. Richmond	Lauriston H. Hazard
Richard S. Aldrich	William L. Sweet
Edward P. Jastram	Frederick T. Moses
Earl G. Batty	John B. Lewis

Charles C. Marshall

Helpful Ideas
Good Service
Full Value
In Printing

Roger Williams Press
E. A. JOHNSON CO.
71 PECK STREET - PROVIDENCE

- take it from me
Chesterfields are Milder

- take it from me
Chesterfields Taste Better

DEC 1968

WESPY

